Gomey,

This year has been very, very, good to me I made it to C.I.F. (as an alternate) but it's the experience that counts. Gomey, you've gotten so much faster in the past season, I was really impressed, It's because of all the practice you've done. Are you going to join the marines? Gomey keep on running because that's the ticket to fame & fortune - look at me, so be cool and live your life a day at a time - And don't have so many kids because they take all your money.

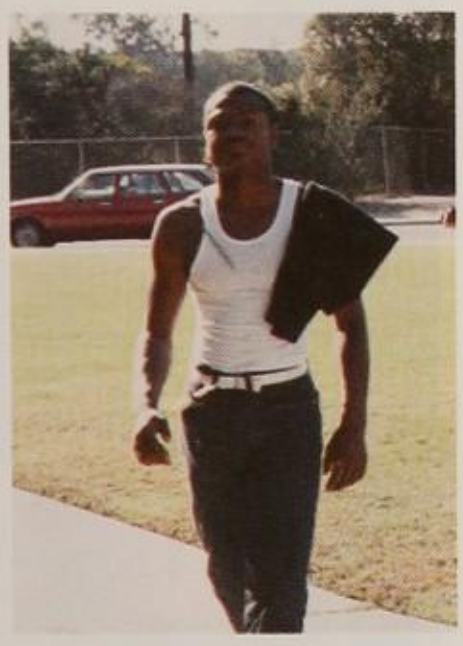
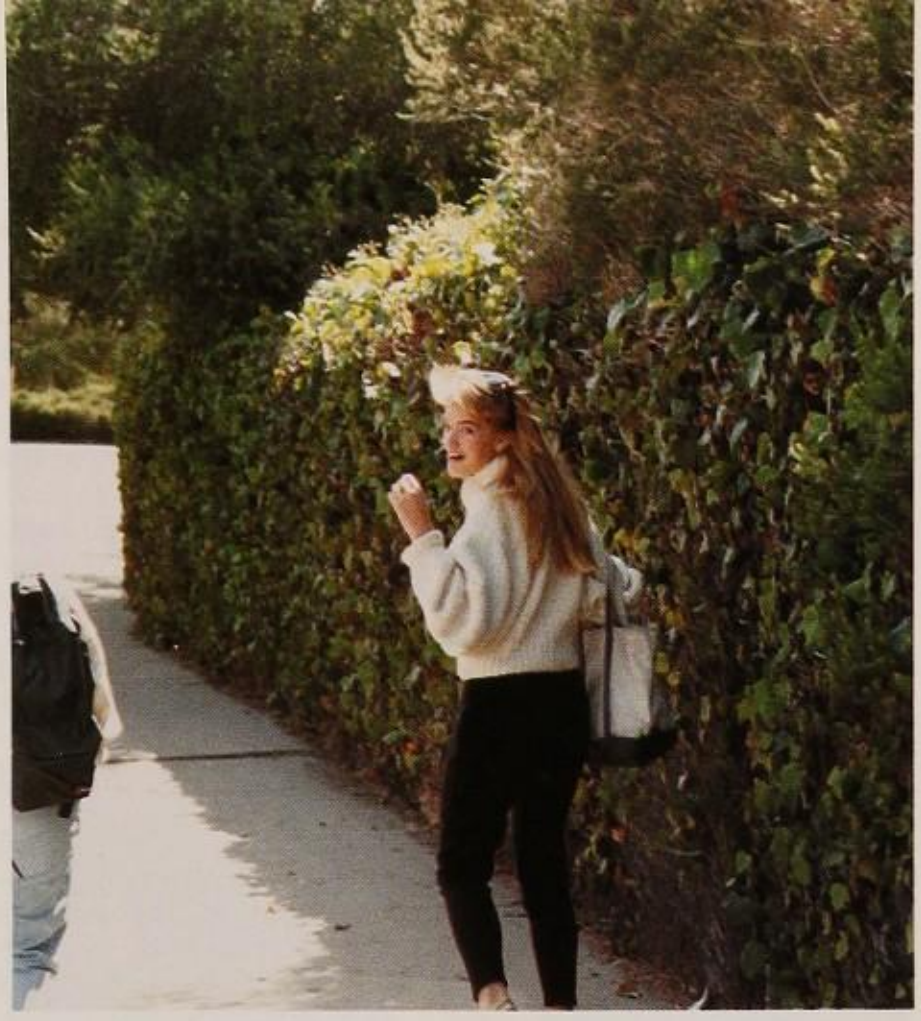
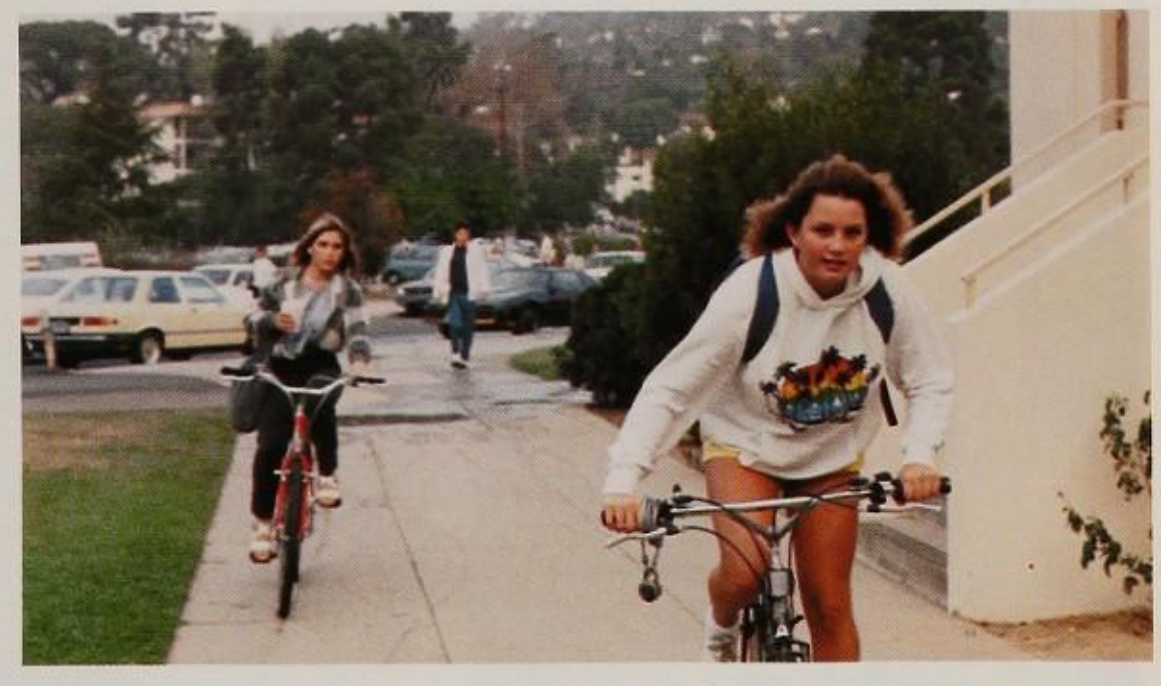
They came from every direction

From the West Side and from the East Side. They came from Montecito, the Riviera, the Mesa, and San Roque. They arrived from Summerland, Carpinteria, down-town and from Goleta. Running, walking, riding, skating, bussing, and driving. Waving, shouting, greeting friends, carrying books and lunches, or just shuffling along trying to wake up.

A multitude of teen-agers of all sizes and shapes, colors and backgrounds. Arriving for the start of another school year at the place where everyone can get along with everyone else in an atmosphere of togetherness.







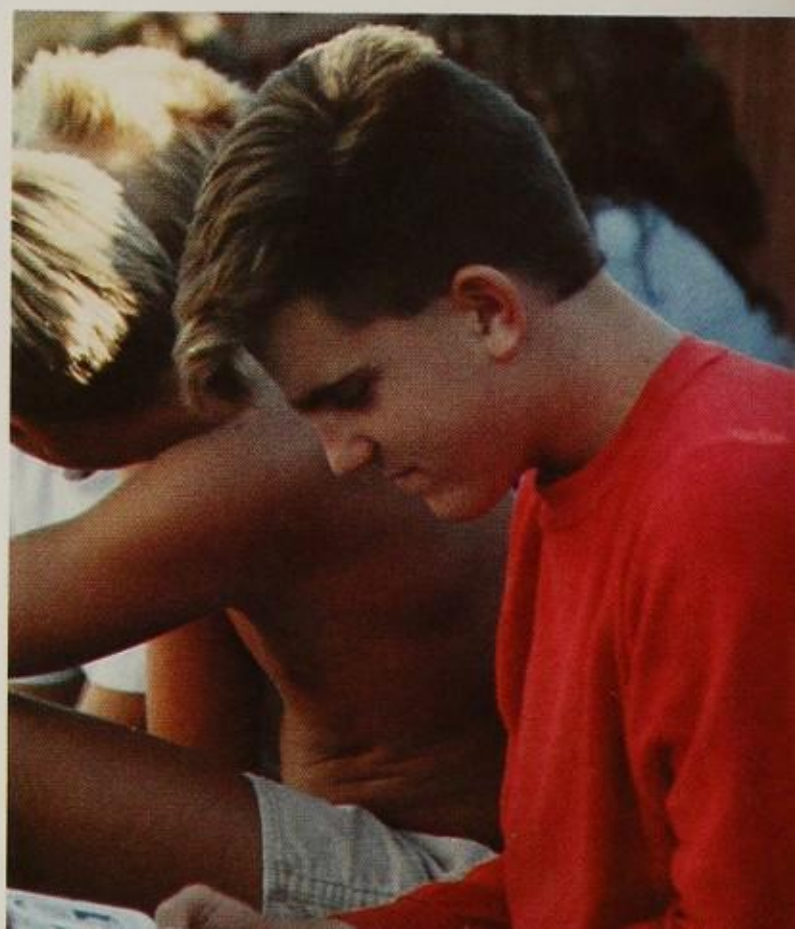
And so the year began

September 1985. It was time to get used to the bus schedule, learn how long it takes to walk to school, test the old skateboard to see if it has enough miles left, pump up the tires on the bike, gas up the car, or suffer the humiliation of being dropped off by Mom.

New arrivals had been escorted around the huge campus during Freshman Orientation, trying to remember where the science class was and how to get to the girls locker room, or where are the rooms with "80" numbers. The new ninth graders soon found all their new rooms and old friends from junior high. They discovered Friday night football games, pep rallies, the quad, dress-up days, slightly more difficult classes than expected, and the crowded main hall, 429 feet long.

The "old timers" cruised the campus looking for old friends and finding new ones, developing new relationships and discovering interesting people from all over the world. The guys found good spots for checking out the girls while the girls were just able to notice all the guys goin' by.

Meanwhile it was time to settle in to new classes, check out the teachers, and get going on another year closer to graduation.



It began as ninth-grader Christen Barajas said, "scared and nervous, but a week later I found it was fun . . . except for the homework." And Carie Baker was thinking "I'm a senior and I'm sooo happy." Jennifer Murphy agreed adding: "It's so great; I just might be a senior for another year. Some of my teachers think so too."

It was also time for athletes to begin practice for the new season. For band members to march and play preparing for games and competitions. Time for Student Government class to get serious and in orderly session plan the events of the new year, a bewildering slate of activities, designed to get everyone involved in campus life.

But there would still be time left for study, homework, dates, and the search for learning, fun, and new friends. 1985-6. We're off and moving!

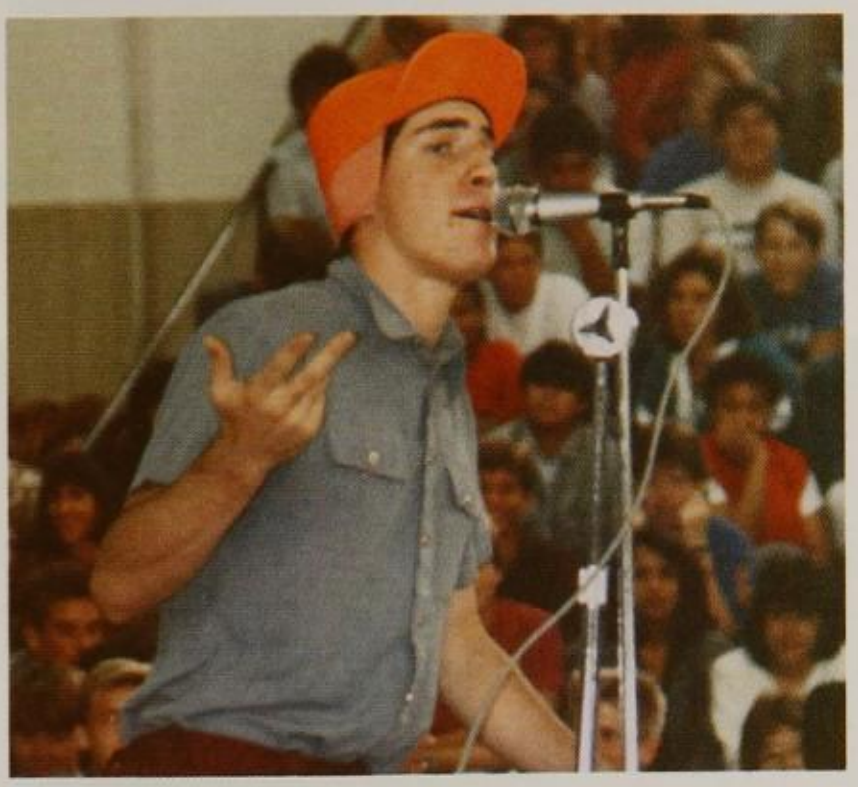
PEP IN THE PIT

The studly '85 football team prepares to present themselves.



"I really hate that too" says Robert Kustal.

The beloved brass section shows off their talent by providing tunes for the Homecoming Pep Rally.

Fridays were usually associated with weekends, football games, parties and dances, but on certain days the student body had yet one more thing to look forward to — Pep Rallies! "Pep Rallies were a special time when everyone came together to share their school pride and enthusiasm," said senior Jenny Kirkwood.

Marc Flacks and Jay Carlander kept students entertained using various techniques. Their songs "Pep Rally Blues" and "The Pit" were catchy tunes and were always a hit. The famous pair of Paul Davies and Robert Kustal kept everyone in stitches with their comedy routines.

Junior Joe Schneider felt that pep rallies were "very inspirational and got me keyed up for the upcoming game."

Class competitions were especially popular, it was a time for seniors to prove their dominance over the rest of the school, while the freshmen, sophomores and juniors didn't give up, for they knew one day they too would be the best.

What was it that made the students of Santa Barbara so proud of their school? It had to be the contagious Don Spirit which could be felt everywhere. No matter what the event, whether it be Mickey Marcos or Halloween dress-up days the Dons proved that their spirit and enthusiasm could not be beat.

Rally days were certainly a good time to soak up some famous Santa Barbara sun. Perfect weather must have been a requirement because every Friday morning gathering took place in warm sunny weather. Students strolling out to, and back from, Peabody Stadium were provided with a welcome release from classes, an opportunity to gossip with friends, and, for some, a good chance to put a little more sun on that summer tan.

Perhaps the biggest advantages of pep rallies were that they helped increase school spirit. As students left Peabody Stadium there was always a feeling of pride, and when it came time for the Friday night football game, many remembered the famous phrase from the song, "The Pit." "There is a school in Santa Barbara with a stadium called 'the pit,' and it's been the ruin of many a poor team who've played in it . . ."

FASHION, WHAT'S FASHION . . .

It's changing with the times and staying in fashion. It's often of major importance to many high school students. It's a wide variety of styles from ones own creativity expression, or what ever is available at the time. It's . . . well . . . Everything!

To some the punk rock multi-colored hair-dos looked great, to others the look was pretty threatening. Hey, we'll all remember you, from your new rabbit convertible in the senior lot, to the beat up 67' station wagon over in the junior lot. And we'll remember the guys in the Levis with shoulder length hair, and the guys in baggys with flat tops.

From the girls wearing jeans jackets, tee shirts, and holey jeans to the girls wearing silk and lace dresses. — We'll remember you too! One can wear . . . well . . . Anything!

Yes, S.B. had its share of off-the-wall looking people, certainly more than a discreet handful. It may have been the acceptability the students felt for each other or as a D.P. Charger said, "S.B. is THE school in Santa Barbara. They've got so many different kinds of people, all classes mix and become the same thing, Dons." THAT'S US!!!!

THEY DON'T WANT NO GREEN AND GOLD . . .

This popular S.B.H.S. cheer is often heard at various sports events. But "green and gold" represents more than a simple chant and more than our famous school colors. It identifies the color of our golden reputation for athletic excellence. Worthy foes in any sport, the Dons have produced many known college and professional athletics. Victory breakfasts at lil' Audreys were resumed as students sacrificed a little sleep to support the team and have some fun. One tradition that seems to have slipped away is the "rooter bus" to out of town games, enjoyed by hundreds of students 8 to 10 years ago but cancelled in '85 due to lack of interest. In its place, our cross town rivalry with San Marcos, as intense as ever, has brought a "pre-game-breakfast" hosted by the Royals. If this event catches on, we will return the favor next year.

ACADEMIC EXCELLENCE SINCE 1875 continues with more than our share of National Merit
Scholars

Helping to maintain our nationwide reputation for academic excellence, are the 10 National Merit Scholars: Sam Flowers, Amy Greenburg, Karl Komenda, Andrew Zimmerman, Eric Peus, Virginia Perry, Phillip Johanson, Joel Halversen, Eric French, and Tarek Azim. News from colleges continues to praise the quality of our graduates. Boston College asked to send students for student teaching at S.B.H.S., the place to be. As academics play a key role at school our students are confronted with the traditional 3 hour SAT test. Our seniors brought home the highest average scores among the nine local schools, scoring 44 points above the national average on the verbal section and 48 above national average in math. Dress up days are still popular and prompted even the most conservative students to join in. Costumes were varied, colorful, and sometimes just plain wierd.

Musical tradition remained strong as the Marching Dons Band captured awards at numerous competitions, including first place at the Simi tournament. Our famous Madrigals were selected for a European tour during the summer of '86.

Students continue to work and learn in an atmosphere of tolerance, understanding, and togetherness in a school that has melded all kinds of traditions into a "family" place with few equals anywhere.

A CHANGE OF PACE

Another Friday night? Just another football game? Not a chance! For six anxious ladies, a football team, and virtually a whole school, it was a very special night, the announcement of the 1985 Homecoming Queen.

Homecoming was one of the most exciting events during the football season. In the beginning of October, students began to contemplate the question of who would be nominated. The princesses were nominated by the senior class boys on October 17. On October 24, a pep rally was held in the princesses' honor. Something different was done this year. Besides the traditional questions, games were played by the nominees and their escorts. The games included a balloon toss and a changing clothes relay.

The six young ladies nominated were, Tina Solberg, Celia Chavez, Tina Apodaca, Polly Balsillie, Janet Whalen, and Robin Martin. Information concerning the nominees' future plans and personal life was posted in the main hall showcase, along with pictures, for a week preceeding the ceremony.

After two weeks of interviews, excitement and suspense, the long awaited night arrived. October 25, during halftime ceremonies of the Ventura vs. Santa Barbara football game, Robin Martin was crowned the 1985 Homecoming Queen. Her sentiment was "always try your hardest and success will be your reward."

Cheerleaders share their support by painting signs for the football team to break.

SOME ENCHANTED EVENING

With the theme "A Night In Shining Armor," the 1985 Homecoming dance was the first formal of the year. There was romance mixed with enthusiasm throughout the evening as the students danced to the music of "Under Influence" and Benjamin Lee. Halfway through the night, the princesses, Tina Apodaca, Celia Chavez, Janet Whalen, Polly Balsillie, and Tina Solberg were escorted onto the brightly decorated dance floor. Our queen, Robin Martin followed, escorted by Mweiu Banks. For these six ladies and many others, it truly was "a night in shining armor."

John Kay - Treasurer

Karl Komenda - Student Advocate

Janet Whalen - Co-Vice President

Terry Whalen - Co-Vice President

We asked the A.S.B. officers about their jobs. This is what they had to say:

Simon Silverman, President - "I decided to run for A.S.B. president because I believed I could do a good job. I wanted to introduce new ideas that would benefit us and future students. The task is difficult and demanding, but with results come joy."

Janet Whalen and Terry Whalen, Co-Vice Presidents - "The most difficult part of our job is organizing and running the student legislature meetings, but it is definitely worthwhile."

Karl Komenda, Student Advocate - "Before becoming advocate I did not feel informed of my rights as a student. That is why I became Student Advocate, I wanted students to be informed and well represented."

Rick Blum - Joel Halverson - Robby Helgerson - Matt Zuchowicz, A.B.65 - "We feel our job is important because we have partial control over school funds. We use this control for school improvements."

Alex Parent and Lauren Sidle, Co-Secretaries - "We decided to run for office at the spur of the moment. We wanted to get involved with school, and this seemed like a good way to do it."

Nhan Troung, Student School Board Representative - "It was a chance to represent the whole school, not just myself."

Marc Flacks and Jay Carlander, Pep and Rally - When these two fun loving guys were asked why they liked their job, Marc replied, "The Chicks!" While Jay thought, "Marc was what made things click."

John Kay, Treasurer - "Serving as an A.S.B. officer takes more than merely fulfilling the written duties given to me. To be successful, one must step over the boundaries set by those in front of you. To realize to your capability takes time, effort and the dedication to be a leader among leaders. At S.B.H.S. we have many barriers and problems to overcome. I believe that striving towards improvement and feeling good about the results is what service is all about."

"IF MUSIC BE THE FOOD OF LIFE, PLAY ON."
-Shakespeare

The Madrigal Singers - people dedicated to creating musical beauty to be shared with others. This world renowned group is known for excellence in singing and discipline. A select group of 27 voices is chosen by director Phillis Zimmerman in June each year. Those honored by being selected have ahead of them hours of rehearsals held during class and after school.

All the time and devotion pay off when a line forms outside the Mission, two hours before their Christmas concert. This annual concert has become a tradition to the community of Santa Barbara, the glorious resonance in the Mission bringing out the beauty of each piece.

The spring concert at Our Lady of Sorrows church is also part of the year. The joy of the renewal of life and springtime is celebrated in this concert, the last of the year, as the group dreads the inevitable goodbyes. For in June, the seniors leave, and these particular "Mads" are gone forever. What is left: The memory and love for room 60 and an invitation to perform at the Bad Neuenahar's Americanische Musiktage Festival in Germany featuring outstanding American Youth Ensembles, and present concerts in Vienna, Salzburg, Munich, Velden, and Heidlberg. They will visit places of historial and musical significance including the homes of Beethoven and Mozart and the Vienna Museum of Art. The concert tour will be June 19, 1986 to July 3, 1986; an honor for the Madrigal Singers to share their rich American choral heritage with European audiences. They act as cultural ambassadors reaching out in song and bringing people together through the magic of their music.

To Give The Gift Of Music

What is A Cappella Choir? This was the question asked to various members of the group and these are their answers:

"Choir is a time when the original capabilities of an individual become only one of the many strengths or weaknesses of the entire group.

Overcoming these weaknesses demands each members contribution of intense mental energy and concentration.

Because of the continual overall efforts, the choir puts into learning, singing, and solving its group problems, it is one of the most fulfilling, exciting and rewarding experiences found anywhere." - Margaret Hughes - '87

"I have been in choir for two years. There is no possible way for me to express the joy and unity that I feel from choir. Choir has helped me survive through a lot of hard times." - Erin McCormick - '86

"Not only has the A Cappella choir taught me about responsibility and self discipline, it has given me a chance to give the gift of music to the people of the community." - Beth Watson - '86

"A Cappella Choir: The experience of singing in a choir is unlike anything else. It provides an outlet for a part of life that is otherwise supressed. If there is such a thing as a soul, it is allowed to shine in the A Cappella Choir." - Joel Halverson - '86

VARSITY CHEERLEADERS

1985-1986 Varsity Cheerleaders: Kara Tucker, Marnee Way, Sabrina Davies, Robin Martin, Cathy Chandos, Laura Garcia, Yoli Medina, Sonya Henderson, and Captain Meachie Dixon.

"FIRE IT UP, LET'S GO!"

"It was an exciting season being a part of Victory Breakfasts, Secret Dons, Pep Rallies and a number of extra activities." said Laura Garcia.

Not many realize the time and energy required to be a cheerleader. Not just 6th period every day and Thursday night practice, but also cheerleading camp at UCSB during the summer and, of course, numerous sporting events during the year.

The general consensus of the cheerleading squad was that, "Part of what made cheerleading so exciting this year was cheering for winning athletic teams, and working with the great fans in the student cheering section."

Though the cheerleading team got off to a rough start, they managed to pull together and form close bonds which helped them cheer successfully together.

Captain Meachie Dixon commented, "I've had a lot of fun being cheerleading captain. We were awfully busy but I really enjoyed working with the '85-'86 squad."

But just what is the job of a S.B. Dons cheerleader?

Their job is not only cheering to win, but also cheering to have fun, cheering to get the crowd involved, letting the athletes know that we are behind them, letting the other school hear our support for our team, and most of all cheering to show the Don spirit and pride!

JV CHEERLEADERS

IT'S A GETALONG THING

With their motto "don't give up and don't mess up," JV cheerleaders solved all their problems with a team vote. Problems as a cheerleader? Sure! What moves are best for this yell? Get together and vote on it so we don't "mess up."

J.V. cheerleaders Maxine "Smiles" Alewine, Bertha Rodriguez, Heidi Moore, Jeanine Kemp, Crystal English, Lucy Ranteria, Raquel Diaz, Lazandria Richey, Rosa Peinado, Jessica Chui, and Jennifer Ayres, often performed before small cheering sections, but maintained their spirit while supporting the Dons J.V. sport teams. Jeanine Kemp stated that, "Fan support and doing well as a team are two great benefits of being a J.V. cheerleader and all that summer and after school practice really paid off!" According to Bertha Rodriguez," we shared the laughter, the tears, the victories, the defeats, and in sharing the whole year became a getalong thing!"

The Pinwheels are a select group of people who sit and pound on the hard floor while yelling until their voices are hoarse.

According to Pinwheel Captain Dianna Harman, "being a Pinwheel has been a very exciting experience. I've met so many people and I have a whole new family."

To be a Pinwheel involved cheering, keeping score, setting up and taking down the gym and most of all giving support to the team.

Co-Captain Denise Guillen says, "as a Pinwheel, I've had a lot of fun. I enjoy being part of the Don's wrestling team and I am proud to cheer them on. The wrestlers have been good. They wrestle very hard, that is why we are #1!"

Veronica Sanchez, first year member, felt that "being a Pinwheel was a lot of hard work and time consuming, but well worth it. I felt that there was so much school spirit and pride in all of us!"

Talented people, voices, and spirits made up the advanced theatre class. They used charm and personality to capture the audience at each performance.

After sadly saying goodbye to their devoted teachers, Mrs. Carolyn Callahan, the class welcomed its new director Mr. Rick Mokler with enthusiasm for the promising things to come.

A fall production, "Between Time and Timbuktu," starring Eric Landheer capped "a long, hard, rehearsal schedule with a tremendously successful show", stated Heidi Epper.

Mokler describes his students as "the most outstanding group of kids I have ever had." His excitement coupled with the student enthusiasm made a successful season.

KING OF HEARTS

October: football games, goblins, and Homecoming Queen. February: basketball, cupids, and of course a King of Hearts. On Feb. 5th, each senior girl nominated two senior boys they felt best represented our school. After all the ballots had been collected and counted, the names of six nominees were known.

Marc Flacks, born in Chicago, was kept very busy playing two years on the Varsity Football team, singing with the A Capella Choir, and will travel Europe this summer with the Madrigals. As Pep and Rally Co-Chairperson, Marc let the school enjoy his antics and considered his nomination "a type of reward for just being me."

Not many SBHS Football fans are unable to recognize the name Jesus Ornelas. Jesus, better known as Chuy, was one reason the Dons captured the Channel League Championship. His outstanding play at tailback was rewarded when Chuy was named Channel League MVP. He enjoyed the variety of people on campus, and said, "I didn't just get along with one type of person. I have many different friends."

"I actually forgot about the elections," said Blair Jeffers. Yet the senior girls didn't forget him. Blair excelled in athletics and academics, and plans to attend Stanford or Berkeley, probably majoring in business. Blair was an essential part of the Varsity Volleyball team, spending much of his free time practicing on East Beach.

Bryan Ledford's future plans include a San Diego community college and UCSD. Bryan played on the Varisty and JV Football teams. Of his nomination he said, "I was kind of surprised . . . at first I didn't believe it."

Rob Kustal's skits were often the highlights of the pep rallies. The phrase "Yeah, I really hate that." was automatically associated with him. Actually, Rob is not in any way the fool he portrayed. He hopes to attend an Eastern university and pursue a career in journalism. Rob felt honored by his nomination, saying, "I tried not to make a big deal of it, I tried to take it all in stride."

"I tripped out and was flattered, I mean me of all people." This was Kerry Williams reaction. Not limiting his interest to any one area, he was involved in various activities, including football, track and Leadership. Kerry plans to attend SBCC, transfer to the Air Force, and train to be a fireman.

On Feb. 8th, it was time for the Senior Class to vote for a winner. At the Saturday night dance, the six nominees gathered, the envelope was opened, and the announcement made. Kerry Williams was crowned the 1986 King of Hearts.

Ashland '86

For the fourth consecutive year, English teacher David McEachen undertook the very difficult task of organizing a student trip to the Ashland Shakespearian Festival. Along with Carolyn Callahan and Jane Nelson, Mr. McEachen escorted a group of about 75 English Lit and AP English Students to Oregon. During their 4 day stay, the students attended four plays, and had an opportunity to tour the town.

HOW WE GOT IT MOVIN' . . .

"During life's everyday procedures, it is extremely important to keep ones sanity," quoted editor, Christina Angeles. The yearbook staff claimed this statement to be untrue. Whether it was proofreading copy, reprinting pictures or just trying to meet the upcoming deadline, chaotic hysteria and confusion were perfect adjectives that suited the occasion. Through think and thin they managed to produce a book not only worthy of recognition, but worthy of triumph. The staff was determined to make it the best book yet. After past years this simple goal seemed easy enough, but as anyone well knows, it takes hard work, good attitudes and dedication all the way around.

In order to better the book, co-editor Liz Evans, assistant editor, Elisa Phipps and photographer, Kim Powell attended a yearbook summer camp hosted by Jostens. The camp took place a couple of weeks before school started so the material would be fresh in their minds. "The camp taught us many important techniques that help us now and will always help us in making the yearbook stand up to its fullest potential."

Though new and inexperienced, the Yearbook Staff worked untiringly toward the publication of an annual that was second to none. Developing expertise in photography, layout editing, artwork and publishing in general, the staff aimed for success and succeeded. - by Jennifer Kirkwood

Forge Finds The Right Words

THE FORGE, the school newspaper, is produced entirely by the Journalism class at Santa Barbara High School. Throughout the year, the staff devoted many hours, in class and after school to produce the newspaper. Published ten times during the school year, the Forge is one of the oldest, if not the oldest, high school paper in California.

The stories were written, typed and layed out by the staff. The first steps involved the writing of the stories. This was accomplished by the staff as they "covered their beats". David and Esther Sciuto reported on activities, and clubs. The surfing scene was brought to us by David Sciuto in his cartoon and reported by Jim Dinning and Simon Goss. Aimie Gresham and Jim Handleman told us about the doings of student government. The many worlds of sports were covered by Dustin Johnston (editor) and Josh Byscel, Grant Roden, Carmen Dominguez, and Mia Jaimes. The goings on in classrooms and offices were told by Kristina Shlah, Krystal Runske, Tamara Katzenstein, Jerry Dominguez, Carmen Dominguez, Mia Jaimes and Gina Palazzo.

After the stories were written they were entered onto the word processors with the help of Tyson Blades, Technical Editor. Copy Editors Leigh Anne Dalton and Michelle Devine proof read the stories and refined them. Photography Editors, Danielle Kent and Paige Nunnally were kept busy developing and printing pictures to accompany the stories. The stories were printed on the Forge's printer and then, in the final step, they were layed out in the page design. This was accomplished under the direction of Design Editor Heather Brewen. All of this was under the direction of the Editors in Chief, Heather Brewen, Leigh Anne Dalton, Sarah Snyder and the Advisor, Miss Ruth Bartz, with student teacher Jessica Sullivan assisting.

LIFE STARTS EARLY

"To me, the PACE Center means an education." The PACE Center (Parent and Child Education) was developed in 1978 as an environment to help young mothers and their babies. In the average year, 24 mothers and 12 pregnant girls are involved with the program, which involves pre-natal and childbirth classes. The center offers child care classes for both mothers and other students who want to learn about child care. A very unique feature of the PACE Center is the TAPP (Teenage Pregnancy and Parenting Project) counselling service, a state funded project, which "will help you with whatever problem you may encounter" (Verna Joseph). Most of the girls feel as Jean Castro does that "without the PACE Center I wouldn't have been able to continue my education . . . If it wasn't for all the concerned people who support us, all of us young mothers would most likely never succeed in life."

HOW COULD WE MANAGE WITHOUT THEM?

First there was Leadership. Students selected by Mrs. Lorber for their natural ability who represented the attitudes, ideas, and feelings of students. The members became involved in school by working on the issues that affect students and by planning activities.

Two huge festivals during extended lunch periods helped unify our school and bring students closer together. Several invitational "Awareness Seminars" on topics of interest also brought valuable information to our student body.

Next there was CTC (Confidential Teen Counseling) funded by the Forest Foundation. Most of the teen counselors were members of Leadership class and all were trained in Active Listening Skills enabling them to effectively communicate with students with problems. The very effective CTC program helped provide a helpful, unified atmosphere at SBHS.

Gaining Knowledge

The Interdisciplinary Seminar fielded teams in the Academic Decathalon and the Mock Trial.

"The Academic Decathalon is a competition where your team, consisting of two 'A' students, two 'B' students and two 'C' students study in order to achieve scores on certain previously selected subjects," commented Mr. George Glerum, the class advisor. Defeating participants in all academic areas except fine arts, the SBHS team took second place, due to high public speaking scores.

In the Mock Trial, students debated cases involving vandalism, computer fraud, and the right of school authorities to search a student's locker. "There is no doubt that the students who participated in these events gained a great deal, not only in the acquisition of knowledge, but also in the ability to think and act quickly under pressure. These are lessons that will serve them well in the future years," concluded Mr. Glerum.

A Fun Way To Learn

1986 marks the first year for Knowledge Bowl, a trivia game similar to the old television show "College Bowl." The teams are comprised of students from the same class, for example a Greek history class. Questions are asked from every academic subject area as well as sports. Questions such as "What is the city of brotherly love" and "What are the three orders of Greek architecture?" are commonly asked.

The way the game is played is simple. A toss-up question is given by the advisor, Mr. George Glerum, either one of the two teams may answer, if that question is answered correctly that team gets five points as well as the chance to earn ten more by answering a bonus question correctly.

Knowledge Bowl is a fun way to learn, which has proved to be effective because of the great participation of the students. "I think that a lot of the kids were apprehensive at first, but once they got into it they really enjoyed it." stated Mr. Glerum. Mr. George Everett, one of the team coaches, said that it is "a learning experience."

Stoa Poikile

Stoa Poikile, or "painted porch," was the official name of the newly formed philosophy club. The name referred to a porch from which Zeno lectured in Ancient Greece.

The club normally met every other week to discuss a reading assignment, which was taken from the original works of great philosophers. Founded on the belief that philosophy was an indispensible discipline of the liberal arts, the club was brought to life by students who valued education for other than utilitarian purposes.

'THE "BATTERY" OF THE SCHOOL'

Student Government provides a voice for students in the decision making process. The students develop important skills and it gives them a chance to do what they want and learn from it. Monica Diaz stated the importance of this group," Student Government is like the battery of the school because ideas are generated."

"I strongly believe students need variety. If they have a say in what is going on it's more exciting and the students become more interested in their school," stated Mr. Mike Couch, the advisor.

Their job consisted of three parts: They performed duties assigned by the school administration. They did what the student body wanted and thirdly, they did what they wanted. Many people took for granted the activities going on when actually there were many student government hours behind all the fun. Blood drives, Homecoming, King of Hearts, and after game dances were just some of the many activities organized by this important group. Different jobs were organized through different committees. For example, some student government members worked directly with our administration dealing with attendance and the detention system. Leadership skills were taught through literature, conventions, and especially experience. Each member of student government had to contribute 20 hours to the community or he/she could not receive higher than a C for a semester grade.

Sabrina Davies explained that, "Students are what S.B.H.S. is all about and students helping run our school really makes it OUR school!"

The Student's Voice

The beginning of a semester brings transfers, schedule changes, and of course, student legislature meetings. Two students from each social studies class were elected to take part in this form of government.

These representatives met twice a month to discuss and debate various issues important to the student body. Some of the topics they covered included the installation of more pay phones, nutrition breaks, and shorter days on Fridays. The meetings were open to the entire student body, but only class representatives were allowed to vote.

With the resignation of Simon Silverman as ASB president, co-vice presidents Janet and Terry Whalen moved to the presidential seat and the new vice-president was Bill Fischer.

A STEP TOWARD HIGHER EDUCATION

The Mathematics Engineering Science Achievement program began in 1970 when a group of college educators became concerned about the small number of Black and Mexican Americans who graduate from high school, or apply to colleges. Many students were taking math and science courses in high school, but were not completing the classes to enter a university in a math-based major.

MESA'S main goal for minority students is to encourage them to enter a four-year college in a math-based major such as engineering, computer science, chemistry or architecture. MESA offered structured study sessions, college and career advising, field trips, summer enrichment programs, and help in developing family envolvement.

The 85-86 officers were President, Monica Diaz; Vice-President, Sally Casteneda; Treasurer, Rene Serrano; and Secretary, Jennifer Romero. They planned ways to help students get involved in the club and also worked to raise money for special field trips to colleges that students wanted to visit. On Wednesday, the group met to discuss their future goals in life. MESA and it's officers encourage minority students to take challenging courses, as well as to continue with higher education. MESA members saw college as a definite part of their future.

AMERICAN FIELD SERVICE

The American Field Service is an organization for students who want to travel to foreign countries. The weekly club meetings provided members with the chance to learn about other countries and their cultures, which differ from our own.

Some students who submitted applications to be exchange students have traveled to such places as Australia, Italy, and Switzerland. Senior Stephanie Johnson who spent the summer of '85 in Costa Rica said, "AFS is a great way to meet new people and experience a different culture. At first it was hard for me to adapt to a new culture, but it became easier as I got to know my host family better. I came back to the United States with many fond memories of my adventures which I will never forget. It was a great learning experience because it taught me how to make the best of every situation and problem that arises."

JULIE STILES, BACK FROM SWITZERLAND

"After living in another country I am more aware of how much the people are like us. They may speak another language and live differently but their thoughts and feelings are the same." Senior Julie Stiles spent eight weeks living in Riggisberg, Switzerland.

It seemed like a terrific opportunity to observe and join in the adventures and lives of different people. This could be fulfilled through AFS. The challenge of living with another family in which only the mother spoke English was a great one. Julie felt she gained a lot of new knowledge about people in general, made new friends, and another family.

Perhaps one day she will have the chance to travel somewhere new, and for a longer period of time, or go back to visit her host family and friends in Riggisberg.

A Learning Experience

Junior Statesmen of America was a learning experience in debating, awareness of politics, and a way to meet people.

President Andrew Finch, vice-president Karl Komenda and advisor Herb Simpkins headed the Junior Statesmen in debates at chapter meetings during lunch. All through the year, the members attended local, regional and state wide conferences.

JSA was just one of the groups at S.B.H.S. that prepared students for the future.

They Are The Elite

"I sponsor CSF because it gives me an opportunity to meet very remarkable adults," commented Mr. Torres, the group advisor.

Eliminating Barriers

Project Interdependence has been a part of SBHS since 1981. It was a program designed to help eliminate barriers and stereotyping of people who were considered to be mentally and physically disabled. It was an opportunity to interact with people from the three area high schools in a non-academic environment. Each school met individually and the entire group held monthly planning and informational meetings. The Project also had a weekend training session which was an opportunity to work and meet many people.

Creating new opportunities to make life dignified and beautiful by reviewing all physical and mental disabilities was one of the goals that made Project Interdependence work.

"Don't Drink And Drive!"

Great emphasis on encouraging students not to drive under the influence of any substance by Students Against Drunk Driving (SADD) was presented to the student body in various ways. A play, "Ali Ali Oxen Free," portrayed teen-agers experiencing drug and alcohol problems, after which SADD distributed contracts which arranged for a person to provide a ride for a student who had been drinking. "The assembly was very successful in opening people's eyes," said member Kim Powell.

SADD members also carried signs along highway 101 during holidays to remind people not to drink and drive.

In another method used to get the message across, SADD from D.P. and SBHS worked together to provide a "Safe Ride," as SADD student drivers stood by the telephone for students to call for a "safe ride" home.

"We want our friends to live, not die behind the wheel due to a few beers at a party," said vice-president Brad Davies, "So don't drink and drive!"

From Tragedy To Tri

Mexico's Killer Quake

On Thursday, September 19, a devastating earthquake measuring 7.8 on the Richter scale hit Mexico City. In four minutes an estimated 250 buildings collapsed downtown. A violent after shock, which rumbled through southern Mexico the next night measuring 7.3 on the Richter scale, qualified as a major earthquake on its own.

This killer quake was a physical blow. Already burdened with economic difficulties, the country devoted part of its scarce funds for reconstruction and rebuilding. Financial aid was sought in the U.S. all the way to SBHS. The Leadership class raised over $1,500 for Mexico City.

Dons Quench A Big Thirst, Take Over First

Santa Barbara put itself in position for the title by whipping San Marcos 34-14 in the 26th annual Big game at Valley Stadium. Santa Barbara was finally able to savor this win, its first victory in three years over its cross town rival. "It feels good to break the drought," said Coach Lito Garcia, whose team was 8-1 over-all and ranked number three in the Coastal Conference.

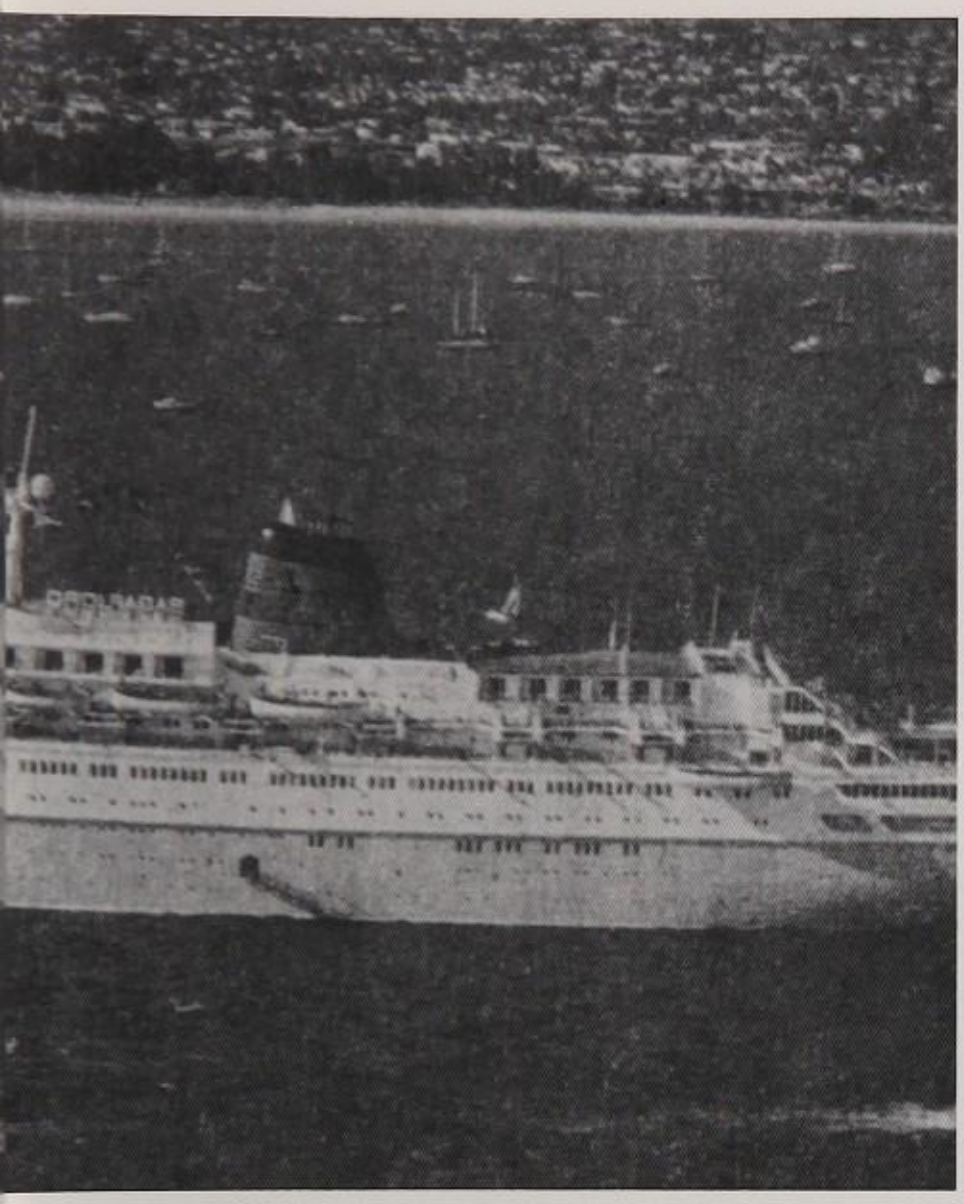
Via, Time Marched On



The Sagafjord dwarfs the flotilla of local vessels that came out to greet its arrival, Thursday September 20, 1985.

Sagafjord Given A Santa Barbara Welcome

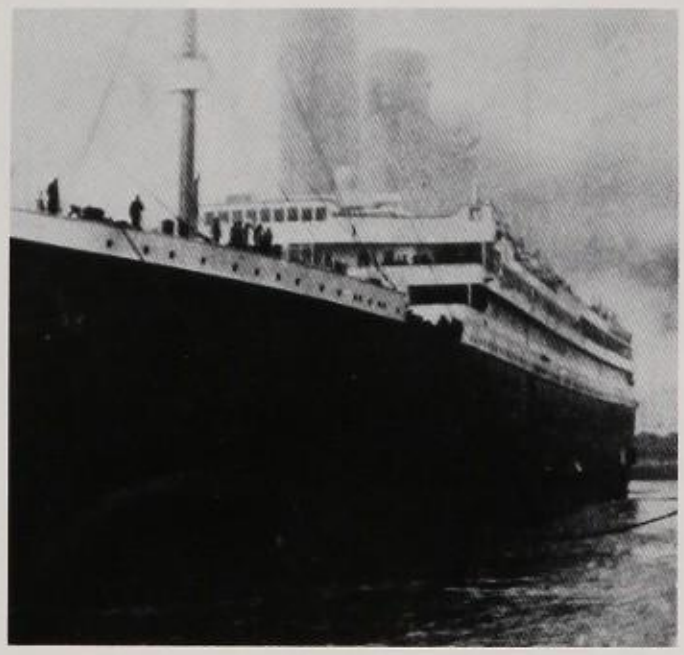
619 foot Luxury liner, Sagafjord, glimmered across the water at the Santa Barbara Harbor. The waterfront was jammed with spectators curious about the ship. Sagafjord was built in 1965, in Marseille by Norwegian American line, carrying 500 passengers. Midday to midnight, celebration went on, and Mayor Shiela Lodge exchanged plaques with Captain Bertein. Forty-five passengers boarded the Sagafjord in Santa Barbara. The ship was scheduled to stop in Los Angeles, then through the Panama Canal making stops along the way to its final destination of Galveston, Texas.

The ship's officials gave guests a tour, which included a look into some staterooms. One fully carpeted, draped cabin with single beds, separate bath (plus telephone, fruit and champagne) came with a price tag of $2,000 for a 10-day cruise.

Guardian Angels Come To Santa Barbara

October 9, the Guardian Angels announced they were considering patroling Santa Barbara streets, even though, "this is not the sleeze bucket, armpit, problem area of the world." December 7, Guardian Angels walked their first patrol in Santa Barbara.

Left- Guardian Angels' founder Curtis Silwa brought his patrol to Santa Barbara.



September 13, Dons beat Santa Maria in season opening football game, first time in four years. September 21, Heavy weight Larry Holmes versus light heavy weight Michael Spinks. First time ever that a light heavy weight wins heavy weight Champ.

Titantic Found!

On September first, 1985, video cameras aboard a search vehicle, "Argo", picked up one of the Titanic's boilers. All rejoiced with the finding of the magnificent ship. After sinking in 1912, due to an iceburg that tore a gash 300 ft. long in its hull, most of the survivors off the ship died in the lifeboats, surrounded by 28 degree water. The Titanic was found by American and French explorers.

Backward, Turn Backward

Halley's Comet Returns

1986 brought the return of Halley's Comet. After 75 years this renowned "ball of fire" coursed its way back to Earth. Halley's Comet was believed to have originated around the time of the solar system's formation about 4.6 billion years ago. The comet emerges as an irregularly shaped object wrapped in a cloak of thick black dust,warmed by the sun of about 85 degrees, all masking a heart of dirty ice. During the middle ages, it was recorded as God's baleful eye, come to watch his subjects periodically. Now it is just another natural phenomenon for people to stare at.

A New Home For The Dolphin Fountain

The Dolphin sculpture, designed by Bud Bottoms, a Santa Barbaran, was finally placed in a new home, (it was first placed at the Natural History Museum), at the entrance to Stearn's Wharf on January 14, 1986.

TRIVIA:

Statistics for 1986- Student movie ticket 3.75. A gallon of unleaded gas went from $1.13 to 95 cents. Bus ride 50 ¢. Yearbook $25. Big Mac $1.59 and small fries 55 ¢. Student admission to a football game $3.00. Population of S.B.-79,000. Size of student body-2,400. Mayor of S.B.-Shiela Lodge. First year for an International Film Festival in S.B. Superbowl-Bears won over Patriots. Big movies- Pretty in Pink, Rocky 4, Back to the Future, Color Purple, Out of Africa. AIDS is feared in S.B. as it is in San Francisco or Chicago.

Aquino Vs. Marcos

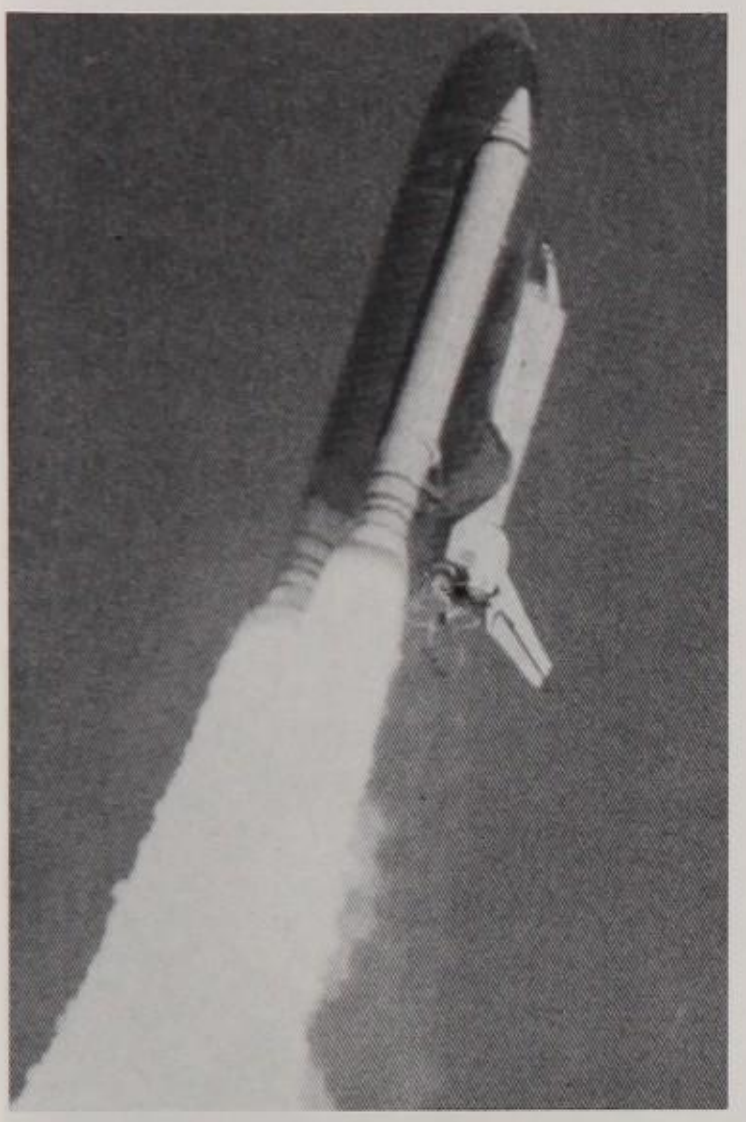
Ferdinand Marcos, President of the Philippines, called for a presidential reelection. His opponent was Corazon Aquino, the widow of assasinated opposition leader, Benigno Aquino.

The people of the Philippines, ruled by Marcos, lived in a world of injustice, suppression and mass poverty. The election was a chance for a people's revolution.

With corruption underlying, Marcos was declared the winner. As the people's revolution grew, the military joined them and Marcos resigned, fleeing to America.

Aquino herself said, "There was nothing healthy or democratic about the violence, intimidation, cheating or bribes by which Mr. Marcos sought to snatch victory. Nobody believes he is president because the one vote he does not have is that of the people.

Time In Flight...



A Great Loss

A catastrophic explosion blew apart the space shuttle Challenger seventy-five seconds after lift-off, Tuesday morning, January 28, sending school teacher Christa Mc Auliffe and six NASA astronauts to a fiery death in the sky, eight miles from Kennedy Space Center.

Never before in 56 manned space flights had Americans died in space.

The tragedy defied explanation, though a slow motion replay seemed to show the initial explosion occurred in one of the ship's two rocket boosters.

Sharing their message with passing motorists, members of the Central American Response Network formed a living billboard at highway 101 and State Street as the weekend traffic rush began.

Reagan: 'I'm a Contra too;' vows to win support

March 20, 1986, the House of Representatives was scheduled to vote on a bill to provide $70 million in military assistance and $30 million for non-lethal aid to Nicaraguan rebels trying to topple the leftist Sandinista Government. Reagan said rejection of Contra aid would allow the Soviets to have a "beach-head in North America" for communism. Others fear Nicaragua would become "another Vietnam." Here were two views.

Apartheid In South Africa

All summer, the tension had built as images of black rioters, black victims, and white politicians promising reform flashed across TV screens and newspapers. Blacks were forced to resort to violence by the discriminatory, white minority government. Bishop Tutu, a South African minister, was outspoken against the oppressors. The Bishop won the Nobel Peace Prize for his efforts. The outlaw govt., The African National Congress, declared that South Africa would be under majority rule in less than a decade. With antipartheid demonstrations from New York to California university campus', President Reagan was faced with a huge political problem.

Quality not Quantity ... is a word that describes the Santa Barbara Tall Flags. "Being in the Tall Flags gave me the opportunity to experience true Don Pride," said Bonnie Ross. "Tall Flags was more than twirling a flag. It was knowing your flag work and your team. It was a great satisfaction performing what we knew and doing our absolute best," commented Kimberly Hand. The Tall Flags proved that hard work pays off by taking the Sweepstakes Award at the Royal Competition.

The pride of Santa Barbara . . . a fitting name for the Santa Barbara Marching Dons. Combining hard work and fun, the band well represented the spirit of our school. While other high school students were sleeping in, or enjoying a Saturday at the beach, band members were putting in long hours of rehearsal before school, Thursday nights, and occasionally Saturdays, plus all the competitions and parades. "I hated those early morning practices in the swamp, but I have to admit that I loved being in band," commented Sonia Quevedo.

Daniel Garske, band director, arranged many of the songs, and wrote the field show. Under the leadership of Garske and the other advisors, the band continued to improve throughout the year, moving up to Class A competitions. Their success was evident by the many trophies they earned, including the Sweepstakes Award at the '85 Newhall competition. "It was an honor representing SBHS and the roar of the crowd made all the long hours of practice worth while," said Drum Major Stephan Dunham.

After the last half-time show is over, once all the uniforms are put away, and after the last parade comes to a halt, the Marching Dons season is over. But what of the numerous musicians who spent long hours perfecting their music?

With the start of the spring semester, the Marching Band swings right over to become the Symphonic Band. Without the worries and hassles of competitions and field shows, the band is able to relax and concentrate solely on music.

JROTC

JUNIOR RESERVE OFFICERS
TRAINING CORPS

JROTC started with 31 cadets in 1924, many with relatives in the military, who wanted to be better citizens and to learn about the military - to see if it was for them. During wartime the class grew, and during peacetime it dwindled. Presently JROTC has 79 cadets who joined for various reasons, from getting out of P.E. to those "Gung Ho" individuals who seriously want to make the military their career.

JROTC is the oldest special organization of Santa Barbara High School and is a tradition which makes individuals more knowledgable about the state of our nation and creates a desire to be a part of it. Cadets learn a variety of subjects including first-aid, map reading, rifle marksmanship, and leadership theory. The leadership learned is applied in the class and may be used in the military or as a civilian. Cadets become more and more responsible individuals, gaining responsibility with rank.

The purpose and intent of the JROTC program is to provide instructions and practical application of leadership and good citizenship principles. The SBHS Corps of Cadets is dedicated to it's motto of "Citizenship-Leadership-Fidelity."

"It's been a busy year for JROTC Drill Team. Participation in the Goleta Valley Days, Memorial Day, and Veteran's Day parades and various performances for convalescent homes have brought a new degree of visibility to JROTC," stated Cadet Captain Chris Koetting, Drill Team commander. "Meets with San Marcos help to foster the 'friendly' competition that exists between our battalions. The future looks good for us, and we look forward with great anticipation to our new goals."

The JROTC Drill Team, comprised of nine cadets and a cadet commander, practices six times a week for forty-five minutes to be sure that they are together and precise. In competitions and performances the Drill Team represents JROTC class as well as our school. They have performed for many people at many events and have continued to win the hearts of their audience.

EAT, GORGE, DIET?

Find a friend (or more than one) or enjoy a little solitude by yourself. Sit or stand. Eat a lot, or a little, or nothing at all. We all have our own ritual to follow for that lunch break. And its not cheap, unless Mom packs a lunch. Lines form early at the favorite fast-food joints as students face the daily decisions: hot dog, fries and coke, taco, or "what can I get for a buck-forty?" With lunch "hour" only about 55 minutes we can't go far, but a great variety of eats awaits within walking distance of school.

DISIPLINE AND DETERMINATION

The Mixed Chorus, or affectionately nicknamed by Miss Zimmerman, as the Mixed Up Chorus, was the beginning of the choral program at Santa Barbara High School. It was where every singer in the Choir or Madrigals started, though a special few were talented enough to bypass it. It was a place to learn not only choral skills, but also respect, self discipline and determination. "All of us in Mixed Chorus had a goal; a goal to reach as high as we could with everything we've got." "Room 60 was a special room where Miss Zimmerman succeeded in creating an atmosphere of energetic and vivid beauty." -Jennie Gillon.

This years Mixed Chorus got off to a rough start, but felt that with enough hard work and determination the sound would become Santa Barbara High School quality. The majority of the time was spent on vocal exercises, so that eventually we would produce singers who were ready for choir. "The best thing about Mixed Chorus was that it opened the door to anyone who wanted to learn what singing at this school is about."- Cristine Denver.

This year more than ever, the chorus had to learn that "It takes a beautiful person to create a beautiful tone."- Phylis Zimmerman.

FRIDAY . . . 2:49 pm . . . anticipation of a weekend builds, students look at a clock ticking away the final seconds, a bell rings, the room empties to murmurs of "Thank God It's Friday."

By evening a weekend is in full swing. Some Dons are downtown or somewhere more romantic with someone special. Others party, sit at home with TV, or talk on the phone about something to do instead of talking on the phone.

As Saturday gets going, students are found all over town doing all sorts of things: shopping, surfing, working, beaching, relaxing. After sunset, movies, concerts, and parties attract many of our students.

Sunday offers many of the same activities, usually more sober, as the realization sets in that the last few hours of freedom are near. And homework is yet to be done!!

After 5 days of academic productivity, Dons deserve a break, and no matter how each decides to spend the time, one thing is certain-they know how to live it up, and that's what weekends are all about.

LEADERSHIP DOES IT AGAIN! ANOTHER FUN NOON-HOUR

They worked every day for two weeks until nine at night to put the party together. They went out and purchased the wood and constructed all the booths by hand.

Janice Lorber and her leadership class even had to fight off six junk-yard dogs to negotiate for the wrecked car which some macho students tried to smash. (The guys broke 5 sledge hammers smashing the car labeled "deans" but observers would say that the car won.) Then the class hustled back to school to blow up 500 green and yellow balloons and get set up for the Unity Festival.

And they pulled off a noon-time festival that scored right up there with the parties of past years. They attracted a large enthusiastic crowd that pleaded for a longer lunch hour so they could continue dancing.

Festival crowds enjoyed foot-long hot dogs and 300 hamburgers along with thousands of fries, chips, and cotton candy. They danced to "Victor" and his sounds, sat for haircuts, learned about their sex life from a fortune teller, and wandered around the quad checking out all the other festival fans. It was a good day for people watching.

When it was all over the poor leadership class folded up their booths, cleaned up the mess and "spent hours picking the cotton candy out of their hair."

TWO LOW YEARS . . . NOW WE'RE BACK UP!

"We are going to go all the way. Hopefully we'll go to CIF. Everybody's going to have a part in the winning." Kevin Bolden was one to call'em back in September. He not only predicted the teams destiny but he helped them get there with his all-star football talents.

In pre-season polls the Dons were ranked tenth in CIF. By the league opener vs. Hueneme, they had already risen to number one. With this promising start the Big Dons determination to be the best in league was "fired up".

Every day they practiced until dark, drilling on plays with coaches: Lito Garcia, Joe Nunez, Steve Cathcart, Richard McIntosh, and Sam Razo. Changing strategy weekly in order to beat the new opponent. The defensive line including Juan Torres, Kevin Van de Water, Vincent Calderon, Mark Flacks, Mike Woodland, and Gustavo Ponce was definitely a strong presence in every game. Bryan Ledford described the defensive team as "raging" and felt it did a "good job in protecting the end-zone. We held them to one TD for every three of our touchdowns." The pay off was great, as their offensive teammates ran, threw, and punched their way down the field for a season total of 240 points. And it didn't stop there. After a grueling season, the Big Dons tied for first in Channel League and went on to play South Torrance in the CIF Tournament.

Peabody Stadium was packed with past and present Dons, as the "Golden Tornado" crushed South Torrance 34-0. Preparations for the second round game against Hart were intense but the Tornado was turned back in the final seconds, ending the '85 season with a 9-3 record.

In the first CIF play-off game the Dons faced South Torrance. "We were really up for the game, we practiced hard and studied their plays all week. They were supposed to be the big L.A. team, but we surprised them and kicked the tar out of them." Said Eddy Schram(19) shown above blocking with Bryan Ledford(42) as Chuy Ornelas(20) carries through the Torrance defense.

The Dons traveled to Hart H.S. for second round action in the "Mud Bowl". In the second quarter of a close, tension-packed game they lost star Kevin Bolden and things got tough. With 40 seconds left in the game the Dons season ended when Hart scored a TD to win 24-17.

Young Dons Keep Positive Attitude

"Our first game was the most exciting. We were really rowdy on the bus on the way up to Santa Maria and that may have caused us to be down in the first half, when they scored first. Then, the coaches talked to us at half time and we came back and won in the last minute." Gary Gil, describing the season, recalled that "we had great guys and a lot of potential, but it just didn't quite work out," The defending League Champions dropped to a three and seven season. Practice began in July with several tough workouts, but injuries and inelegible players hurt the team, making it impossible to play as hard as they practiced.

Although spectator support for the young Dons wasn't near as much as it was for the older players, they continued to fight on. Returning players, James Hoover recalled," if we were getting down on ourselves, cause we weren't playing that well, we'd start clapping and cheering each other to change the mood." Mike looked back at the season saying, "A team can't expect to do well unless they're willing to play together, as one."

The J.V. team often suffers when it loses it's star players to the varsity team, but with a hopeful freshman attitude of "even though we lost a lot we still want to play, and we're going to try harder next year," things are looking bright for a good season.

Star players include nose guard Victor Alcantar and linebackers Matt Pardo and Mike Rempe. The defense really worked hard to keep the team alive in games throughout the season. It was often called upon to stop the other teams, as they neared the goal line, and was usually successful.

If the spirits continue through out the summer, and the J.V. players come back on September with a winning attitude, it seems it will be impossible to have anything but an outstanding team.

HARRIERS SHRED

The 1985 Cross Country team was made up of a tightly knit group of runners; boys, girls, J.V. and varsity who all worked together to be the best. The unity of the team was due to captains, Tom Davis, Denise Kircher, Barbara Robinson, Rick Blum and their leadership qualities. They kept the team spirit high and led the team through the season. The general attitude of the team was, "We are a family; we are each others spectators, cheering section and friends. We stay as close on weekends, after school and during the summer as we do during practice. We're there to help each other run faster."

After a six mile workout on the streets of Santa Barbara the team would do a weight workout before calling it a day. To stay strong and fast they would run over to the Riviera to do a few sprints up and down Garcia Road, off to the Mission Park to do a speed workout, then and only then would the "gumby-legged" Harriers stop for a break. Not too easy, HUH?!! "Cross Country isn't a sport you kind of get into, it takes a lot of dedication and will power. It's both mentally and physically challenging," stated Richard Rochenbach.

Although they admit that their workouts were grueling at times the Harriers proved that it paid off. The proof showed up in the form of first place in the Hancock Cross Country Invitational, third place overall in the league and running in CIF. Leading the mens team were John Brazelton, who holds the seventh fastest time on Santa Barbara's course, Tom Davis and Richard Rockenbach. The girls also had a strong season, finishing a close fourth in league, barely missing a spot in CIF. The top three girls were Denise Kircher, Barbara Robinson, and Heather Hanson. The team agrees that they can be described in two words, "HARRIERS SHRED!!!"

POLOISTS MAKE A SPLASH IN CHANNEL LEAGUE

While most people were at the beach or kicking back somewhere else, the S.B.H.S. Water Polo Team was busy working hard, gaining experience, and preparing for the tough season that they faced in September.

After their upsetting game against Lompoc, the team faced and overtook Thousand Oaks and Newberry Park. With each win they gained enthusiasm, as a team, and each player had a certain motivation from within to do his best in every game. Mike Powers noticed at the beginning of the season that "the team is very supportive, but also challenging and won't settle for anything less than perfection." This attitude may have been what led him to his receiving the Most Valuable Player award. Greg Hinsdale said that "I have learned that I'm not just one person, separate from the rest, but a part of the team and a contibuting member."

Starting juniors, Tony Warrecker, Rob Kelly, Mike Simpson, and Greg Hinsdale felt good about the teams accomplishments but look forward to their chance to shine as seniors. Juniors, sophomores, and freshmen all showed determination and enthusiam and all anticipate a good season next year. "H^2O Polo requires brute strength, endurance, and intelligence. Fortunately our team has a combination of all of these characteristics, which is why we did so well in Channel League," reflected junior Greg Hinsdale. The team finished with a 6-5 record in league and 10-10 overall record. "We played as well as we felt we could, I guess we just had a few tough breaks." stated Tony Warrecker.

TOGETHER, ONE TEAM, ONE GOAL-THE WINNING GOAL. . .

Is soccer the worlds most popular sport? For "Nosotros" it is!

A game where the athlete must be in superb condition, always ready to run, block, or kick. Coach Manuel Garcia said of the '86 Dons Soccer Team, "This team was in my opinion one of the best in the CIF. They posessed excellent skills and examplified great determination and desire."

The Dons compiled a 12-4-4 record before entering CIF play. In an extremely close game, they went into double overtime before losing to Santa Maria due to penalty kicks, thus ending their season.

Many valuable defensive and offensive players were the reason behind many of the Don's wins. The MVP Defensive player award went to senior, Lito Garcia. "He was the strength of our defense. Our defense was greatly diminished whenever he was not playing," remarked Coach Garcia. The MVP Offensive player awards went to Junior Mike DePaco and Senior Jose "Cha" Andrade. "Mike was very consistant throughout the year, he would always strive for the winning goal. Jose was very instrumental in our second half successes. We went 6-0 and he helped lead us into CIF."

?MWith an outstanding crop of players returning, including Kevin Hanna, Juan Carlos Moreno, Marco Medina, Frank Rodriguez, and Amahl Thomas, the coach predicts success in the year to come.

As a summary of the season Garcia said, "I always felt that we were in the game. If we were trailing, I always had the feeling that we would pull the game out. This was a very coachable team, I was extremely proud of the group."

OFF AND RUNNING

"Rain, rain, go away, so that we can play ball today." This variation of the common song sung by children was heard around the varsity diamonds during the start of the season. Many of the Dons games were postponed due to the bad weather.

Despite this slow start, when the Dons finally did get a chance to play, they were off and running. The team, made up mostly of seniors and a few starting juniors, found as their season progressed that their talents might lead them to CIF.

Prospects hinged on a potentially strong pitching staff headed by Eric Pender and included Felipe Medina, Wayne Shipley and Luis Del Campo. Seniors Joe Lemp, Charlie Deutsch, Tim Phipps and David Peterson were expected to provide leadership in addition to their baseball skills.

In the first Channel League game of the season the Dons lived up to pre-season predictions by beating Buena 6-4.

Joe Lemp, known throughout the Channel League for the "miracle" catches in center field, kept the team in contention with outstanding plays. "This year's team I think is the best I've ever played for. It's like everybody on the team is one big family. We all play as a team, and we all look like a team. That's why I love them." said Don's pitcher, "Fess" Del Campo.

Thinking Positive Makes Winners

The 1986 season proved to be a learning and winning experience for the softball team. With four freshmen starting and only two seniors, the team was inexperienced in many fields. With high hopes, a lot of talent and a bunch of girls willing to learn, they set out to win a league title.

With Coach Mike Valencia and his helpful array of strategies and techniques, the senior co-captains Gina Bregante and Liz Haigh led the young team to a winning season. Gina, a three year starter and two year all-leaguer, provided leadership and a role model for the younger players to look up to. "Gina is a plus and a Spark to the team!!" exclaimed her proud team-mate and co-captain Liz Haigh; Liz, a four year starter and three year all-leaguer, provided steady defense behind the plate.

The team looked toward the future on Varsity with mixed emotions; they were full of excitement and dedication at the long and strenuous practices and their level of enthusiasm grew to great extents on game days. "We looked forward to the game days because we always thought positive andplanned to win," said Sylvia Corral. Many of the returning players were part of our championship team in previous years, and claimed that this team had the potential to do well. "We had a lot more seniors and returning players last year, but this year we have a lot of young and talented players. If we don't do well this year, which I doubt, we should do great next year!" predicted Susie Benavidez at the start of the season. Susie, a helpful member for the past 2½ years is looking forward to a star year as a senior.

RISE AND SHINE

It was not yet 6 AM. Sounds of sleep-deprived athletes filled the lower parking lot and echoed in the empty darkness. Chains rattled against the pool gate as tired but disciplined swimmers made their way across the deck. One could identify them as swimmers by paper bags of food under one arm, and Speedo bags and textbooks weighing down the other. A splash and a piercing yell announced the first victim to enter the pool. The others shed remaining layers of clothing and followed with grumbles of protest. There, amid the chlorinated green and gold suits, was one of the best teams in Channel League, swimming to success.

"The 86 Men's swimming team had more talent and spirit than many past SBHS teams, and all the Channel League." noted a wise varsity veteran. It appeared to be true, as the biggest group in years climbed to the top. The team also drew more spectators than ever before, due to its excellent reputation. All Home meets were well attended by a spirited student body and many dedicated parents, because of whom the Dons achieved an excellent record. Seniors Sam Flowers, Paul Castleberg, Mike Power, and P.J. Jarchow led their teammates on with cheers and sportsmanship that set a good example for new and old athletes alike. Team captain Mike Power said, "Out of the four years on Swim team, this year has been the best, spirit wise."

In the pool, nationally ranked Brian Alderman set a pace for the Dons that few League teams could match. By sweeping butterfly and individual medley events, he contributed valuable points to the team total. Many of the relays did extremely well at Channel League Relays, Channel League Championships and CIF finals. These were the 4x100 consisted of Mike Power, Greg Hinsdale, Sam Flowers, and Brian Alderman. The 4x50 individual medley featured Greg Hinsdale, Andy Chapman, Brian Alderman, and Mike Power at their best. Both relays placed in the top eight at CIF. Earlier in the year, the Dons had battled the Buena Bull Dogs at Channel League relays, the Buena Dual Meet and at Channel League Championships. These meets were filled with stiff competition that pushed both teams to their best times ever, the Dons showed the Channel League that we are a swim team to be reckoned with, in and out of the pool.

The Mighty, Mighty Dons!!

The swimming Dons will always be remembered for their performances both in and out of the pool. In the pool, the 1986 Women's Swim Team finished in the top three in Channel League and continued their excellent reputation. Both J.V. and Varsity girls pushed themselves to their limits by training long and hard for their brief but competitive season. This year's season lasted from Feb. 21, Channel League Relays, until May 2nd, Channel League Finals, both at our pool. For many the season didn't end until May 9th, in Los Angeles, at CIF's. There, a few state and nationally ranked team members scored points for the mighty Swimming Dons. The team as a whole, competed every Friday afternoon, rain or shine. Though the new attendance policy excluded school related activities, some students had trouble missing fifth period once a week, and often times had to skip a meet. Nevertheless, the Dons proved that they could do well both scholastically and competitively.

Due to the heavy winter rainfall, it was usually warmer inside the pool than outside! Out on deck, though still wet, the Swimming Dons showed good sportsmanship and spirit with their cheers. Team captains helped get both old and new swimmers motivated with fun and positive yells. These cheers contributed to their success. They created a sense of togetherness for the team and an individual ambition to do well and proudly represent our school. "No one appreciates team support more than a nervous swimmer," agreed several women's team members.

A good mental attitude is just as important as muscle power, and the Lady Dons proved this time and time again. When fractions of a second were making the difference between winning and losing a meet, it never hurt to have a supportive team member behind the lane.

There were quite a few important meets held at our pool, since we have the fastest swim facilities in the Channel League. Spirited students and helpful parents and by-standers aided in making each home meet a success.

With brand new Olive and Gold suits, and warm hooded sweats S.B. Swimmers made sure that people took notice of them at every meet by yelling ...

"We are the Dons, ...
... The Mighty, Mighty, Dons!!!"

Domination! These words best describe the 1986 Boy's tennis team. Since May of 1984, the Dons have been undefeated, winning the 1985 4A CIF title and were strong favorites to win it again. Leading the way was senior Eric Peus, 'an over-owering pillar of strength and height, unmatched by anyone in the league'. The Dons dominated the Channel League for the 19th consecutive year, with strong support from 'Boogs Maher', Tom Scoble, Alex and Aaron Webster, Michael Devorzon, Dana Morrison, Blake Andrews, Adam Haas, Dennis Powers, Jeff Farrier and Greg Ofner. Other contributors from the Varsity team included the 'never cocky, always serious Billy Miller', Danny Webster 'ster', Branche 'backhand volly' Peus, 'Blonde' Schmidtchen, (not to be confused with Chris), Danny Echt the designated 'Dolfan', Brad Hess 'so kind of you Mrs. Zimmerman, for allowing him to play', Greg 'buy your uniform' Gately, and the 'Ninja' Sean Angel. Joe also contributed to the Varsity line up.

In summation, the tennis team's success can be atributed to two things: 5:30 basketball and coach Trigueiro's prematch talk 'ya know . . . Play like hell; that's it!' "

CHANNEL LEAGUE CHAMP'S. . . AGAIN

Channel League Champions. There are eight different schools trying for the spot. After a lot of hard work and good tennis playing, the championship belonged to Santa Barbara. This was the first year for coach Marriane Gordin. She led her team through many tough and well executed tennis matches. Her ability to analize the game made her a great coach, but most important was her interest in the team. It was not one player who won the title, but the combined effort of all twenty-one players. Co-captains Andrea Gordin and Janet Whalen were responsible for raising the teams morale. "Our team had much more enthusiam than in past years, which is why we are able to do so well in league play and in CIF." said Janet Whalen. The Dons managed to make it to CIF semi-finals with a 16-5 record before losing to Miraleste. "We had a tough break as we had to play the toughest team in CIF-but we did as well as we could before losing 12-6." stated Andrea Gordin.

Practice Makes Perfect

To be successful in any sport, team members must be dedicated and willing to practice. Especially in an individual sport such as track. That ability to work hard and practice long hours formed the core of the '86 track team. From the sound of the first gun this group of athletes soom settled into the routine of practice and personal sacrifice required to win.

With a number of returning athletes, David Lawyer was inspired to describe the team as being "skilled and ready." Each Don working on an area of special skill, and counting Lawyer, Chad Smith, Adolfo Schneider, Kerry Williams, and Eddie Schram amoung the members of the huge team.

Key athletes on the girls team included Faha Bands, a freshman, Donna Howard, and Andrea Lamb.

"Our team, in general, was a group of hard working athletes who always tried their best, no matter what," stated Freshman middle-distance runner Stephanie Weiler.

From many of the athletes the statement "I feel pretty good, I think I ran a good race" was heard, a tribute to the desire to reach excellence, not just to win.

The first meet of the season set the style for the boys as they scored a win over Cabrillo, while the girls discovered a need for some extra practice. Next week they both won against Hueneme and were on the way into grueling competition to "run' out the season.

Serving Up A Strom

Following in the footsteps of Olympic gold medalist Karch Kiraly successfully is no easy task. Yet the '86 Mens Volleyball team refused to be overshadowed by anyone. With six four-year starters on the team, a triumphant season seemed inevitable.

Co-captains, and members of the Varsity team since 1983, Blair Jeffris and Rick Levi were responsible for keeping the team together and working as one. For Rick the "team was probably the best in terms of personality and enthusiasm."

The road to success was made easier with the help of four-year starters John Murphy, David Zemanek, Ed Poppino, and Scott Douglas. Other key players included John Rapp, David Kircher, Jason Siemans and Abe Powell.

Because Channel League does not include volleyball, the Dons must put together an impressive record to force their way into the CIF playoffs. So they schedule the toughest teams to be found and therefore face a difficult climb to the top.

Long bus rides to various out-of-town places, and hours of tournament play, were common.

Yet the team let no obstacle stand in their way. They were consistently ranked in the top five in the CIF polls, and worked hard to achieve on common goal. Their aim was to bring the CIF championship to Santa Barbara, a city of beaches and sand, a school with a history of volleyball standouts.

LADY SPIKERS RETURN TO CIF

Over the past few years volleyball, especially here at Santa Barbara High School, has become a very popular sport. Our womens team was a strong contender in the Channel League this year. They made their bid for a championship led by the strong play of team captains Joie Allen, Paula Marcus, and Liz Messina.

Their summer was a hectic one, practicing and playing in tournaments all over. The girls started working out in the beginning of July by having three practices a week, with a few pick-up games on the off nights.

In June we sent three teams to the Junior Nationals in Missouri, two fifteen-and-under and one varsity. This was a great experience for our girls because they not only got to watch, but they got to participate in a major national tournament. They also attended the University High tournament and took second place. In doing so they defeated the number one ranked team in the state, Santa Monica.

The most damaging losses during the season were to Dos Pueblos and Hueneme. It was these three losses, one to D.P. and two to Hueneme, that prevented the girls from winning Channel League. All of the games were very close and could've gone either way.

For the season the girls finished second in Channel League with a 21-7 overall record, 11-3 in league. In the opening round of C.I.F. play-offs they played Santa Monica and it was probably the toughest game of the season for them. It was both physically and mentally tiring and long, it went into the fifth and final games, before our lady Spikers were defeated.

Jessica Faust captured the feelings of the whole team best when she said, "This season was great! We all had been playing for three or more years, which makes us a very close team. Our desire to win came from within ourselves, and not from any outside influences."

All The Right Moves

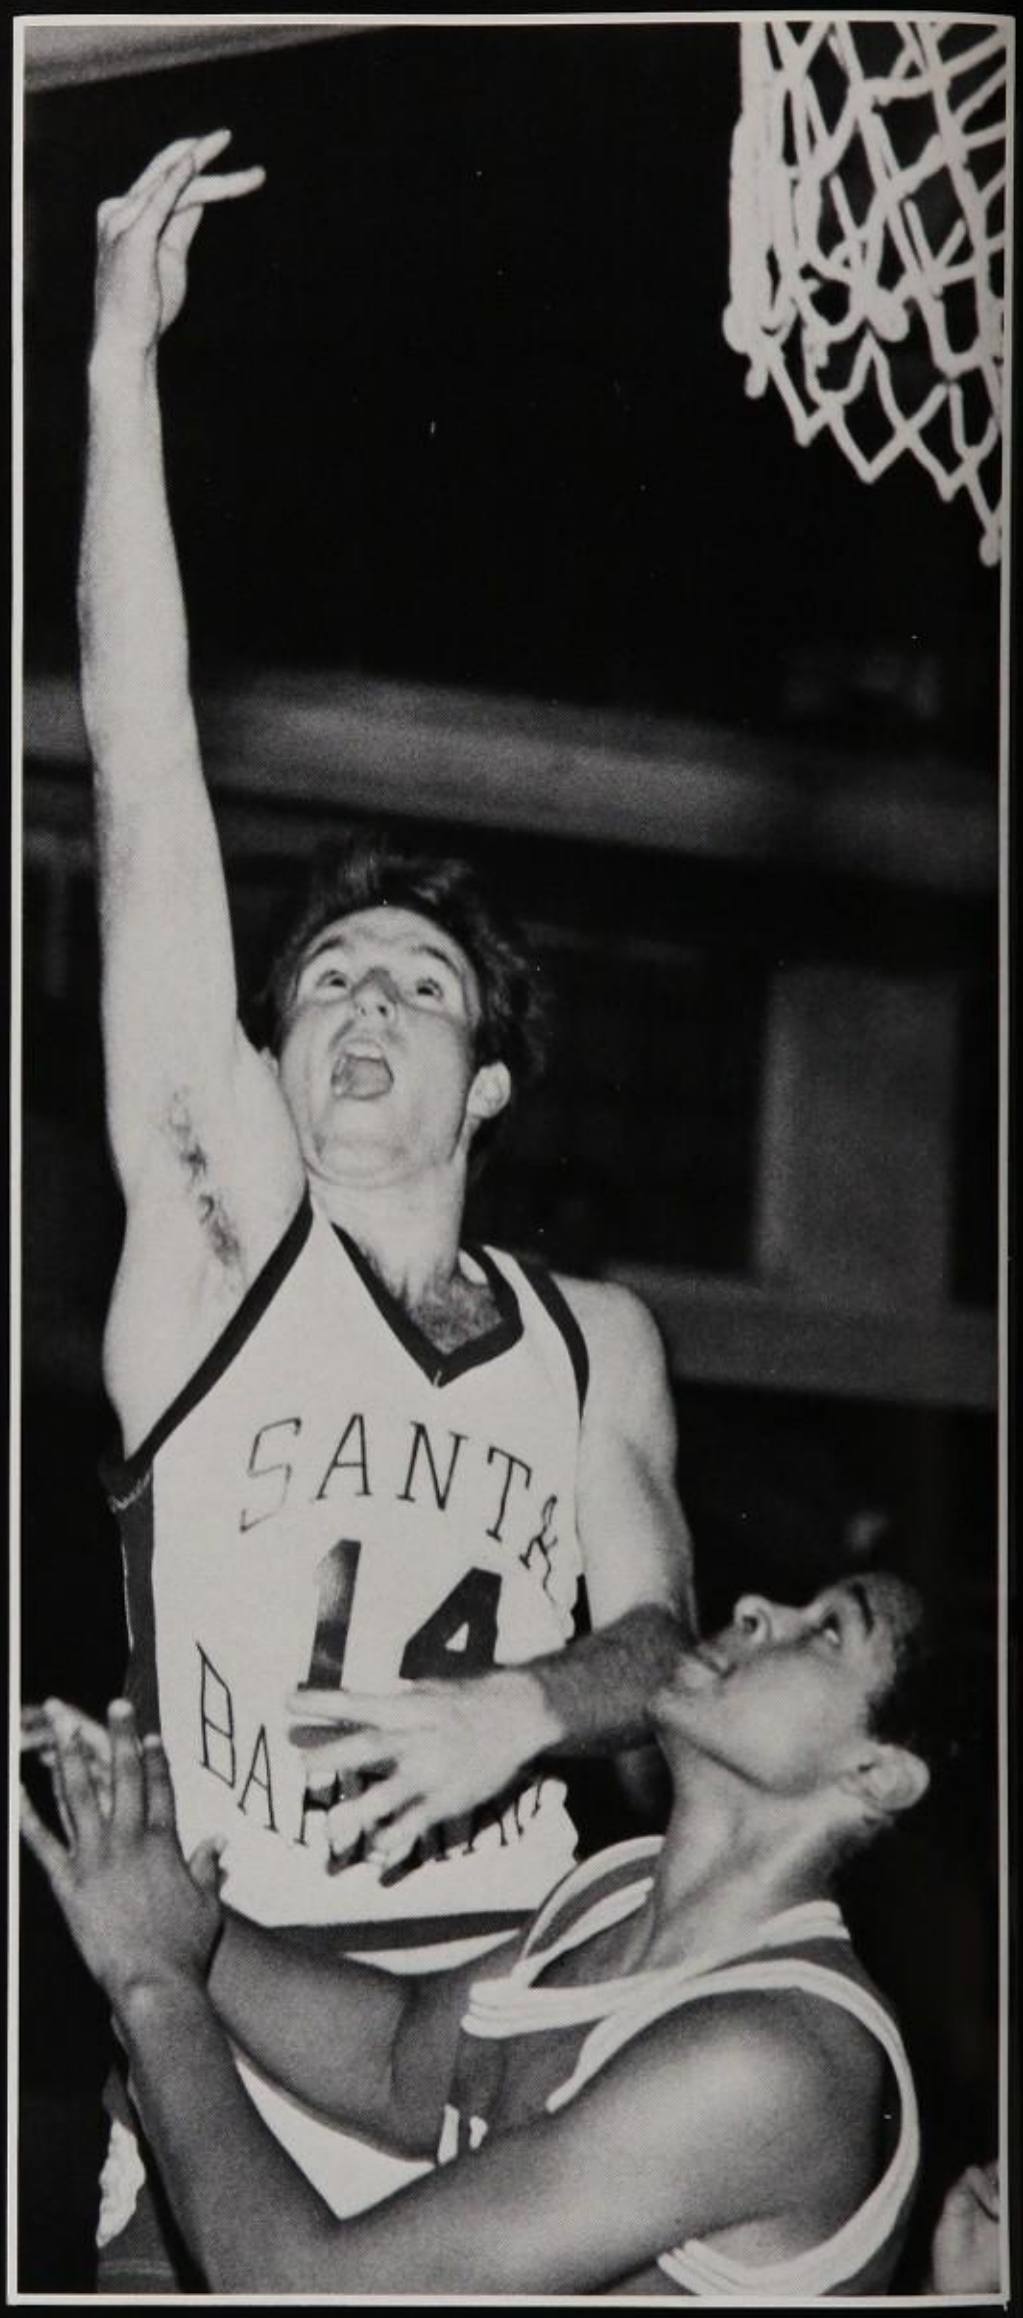
The varsity basketball team opened up the season with hopes of being a strong contender for the Channel League championship. With only three seniors they were a young team, but they did not lack in the catagory of experience with three returning starters. The team got a great boost with the addition of Jarrett Garcia, a transfer student from Carpinteria.

They practiced very hard throughout the summer, even competing in a couple of tournaments, on eat Westmont College and one in Santa Maria. In the tournament at Westmont the Dons defeated Glendale for the championship and in Santa Maria they lost to Damien in the final four.

After opening Channel League play with a 46-33 victory over cross-town rival, Dos Pueblos, the Dons went on to win six of their next seven games. At this point they were doing great, with a record of 13-3. Then they hit hard times and lost three of their next five: dropping from first to second place in Channel League, where they finished the season.

After an opening round victory over Westlake 96-86 in CIF, the team traveled to Santa Monica where a great season came to an unfortunate end. They lost 92-60.

All in all the team fared well, ending the season with a 17-7 overall record, 10-4 in league. The one thing that contributed greatly to the Dons success this year was the depth of the bench. There were several outstanding players: Mike Craven selected first team Channel League, and three members Chad Kammerer, Jon Knapp, and Jarrett Garcia selected to the second team, and Paul Johnson and Dante Robinson who gained honorable mention.



1: Jerry Howard controlling the tempo in the 51-38 victory over cross-town rival San Marcos. 2: Scoring two more points in the Don's 53-42 win against Oxnard, is Chad Kammerer.

LOOK OUT CHANNEL LEAGUE

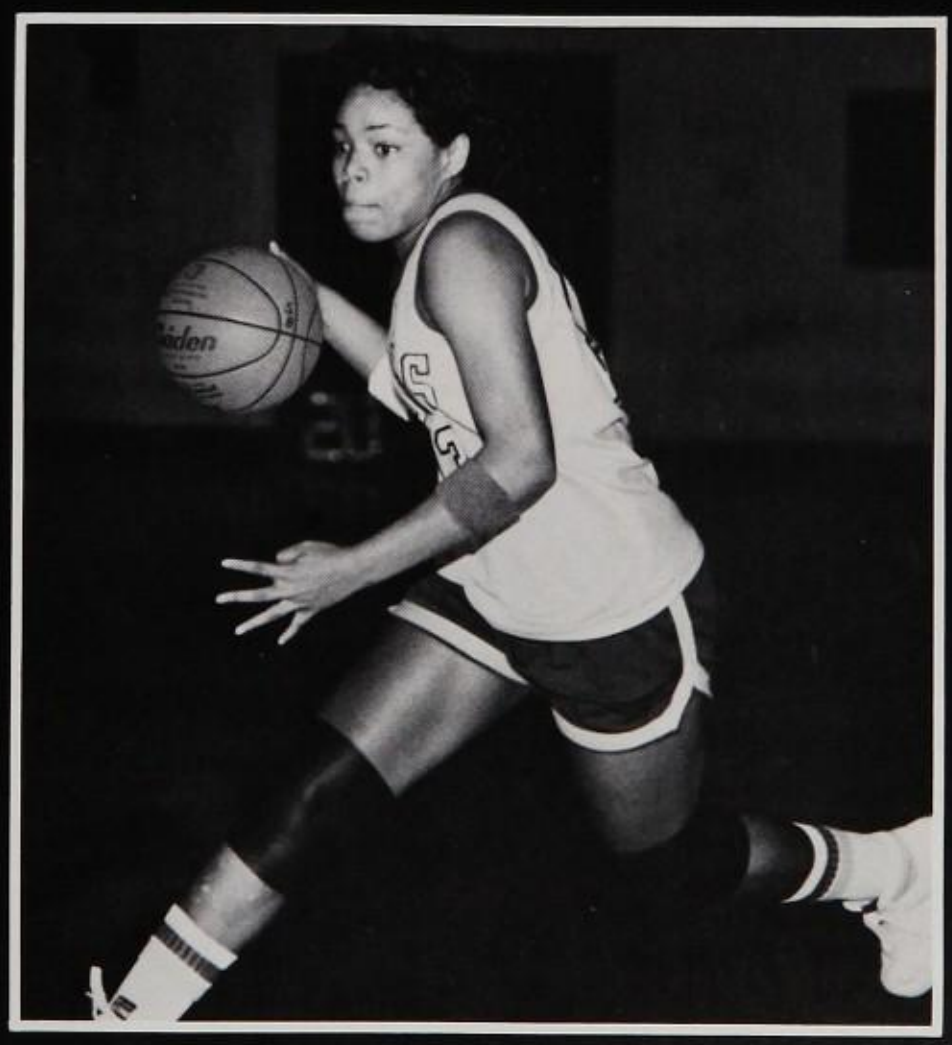
The Lady Dons basketball team was tall, talented, and young. The future looks very bright for this group, as only two seniors graduate from the current roster. The 85-86 team, of course, was also very successful, as the Lady Dons played their way into the post-season playoffs.

The Lady Dons, coached by Scott Blakey and Andrew Butcher, were led by a starting five of senior co-captain Heather Hiles, sophomores Shannon Frowiss, Heather Frowiss, and Kate Cannell, and freshman Janelle Thompson. Junior co-captain Helena Hall and freshman Faha Banks gave the team a strong lift as the first two players off the bench. Senior Diana Leach and juniors Solome Preiswerk, Carrie Fox, and Renee Harris rounded out a bench that was strong enough to compete with many team's starting fives.

Season highlights included a 45-36 victory over Oakland Tech (the number one team in Northern California) in the Tournament of Champions, and an exciting and important 69-66 overtime victory over Ventura, in which Shannon Frowiss scored 35 points. They gave nationally ranked Buena a scare by pushing the number 3 team in the nation to the limit in February, before falling 50-45. Buena had previously beaten every team in the league by 15 points or more. As a measure of the Dons' improvement, this 5 point margin was much closer than the first game, in which Buena scored 76 to the Dons' 38.

On the lower levels, Beccy Preston and Marjorie Kunzi coached the J.V. and frosh/soph teams, respectively, and did an excellent job developing the future varsity players.

Below: Frosh point guard Janelle Thompson drives down the court against the Royals.



NO PLACE TO HIDE

"Wrestling is vigourous training and intense workouts. It is pure sweat; you always have to be at your lowest weight. Once you get on the mat, there is no place to hide," said Senior Jay Holland. Jay, along with teammate Juan Lara placed first in Channel League competitions.

The strenuous workouts would challenge even the toughest of athletes. From early morning "pumping iron" to the 2½ hour training sessions after school, the wrestlers put forth all their efforts to be the best.

"Wrestling is one of, if not the hardest sport at this school. It wasn't the year that we all wanted. It was a struggle all the way, but now it's over and we have the glory of finishing the Don's Wrestling program," said Senior Dieter Hahn.

When Varsity wrestler Jerry Dominguez was asked how he felt about being on the varsity wrestling team for 3 years, his reply was "It was great. I've had a tough 3 years in the varsity lineup but wrestling for S.B. was fun, competitive and it gave me experience I can use to achieve my goals. All I can say now is 'Lets's Eat'!!!"

THE BEST STROKE

Golf, a sport that takes quite a bit of skill, a little luck and a lot of time. The '86 team was expected to do pretty well because they had four returning lettermen, Tom Hastings, Troy Hicks, Steve Ruskowski, and Bill Wagner.

Patience and practice, coupled with skill on the course, promised to ensure an exciting golf season. The team's biggest obstacle, was the rain which plagued Santa Barbara at the start of the season.

Barely into play, the Dons had an 8-4 record and high hopes for competing in CIF. They proved themselves once more by beating the defending Channel League Champs Dos Pueblos, by sixteen strokes. "After last year, losing a CIF birth by two strokes, the eturning players were out to avenge themselves," said returning junior letterman Bill Wagner.

With most matches played at the Montecito Country Club, the SBHS golf team felt they definitely had the home advantage. Once again our student body had reason to admire the perseverance and dedication of the golf team.

OFF THE DEEP END

Hard work and dedication helped the Diving team to maintain a competitive attitude throughout the season. Starting early in the year and practicing at 6:00 a.m. every Monday, Wednesday and Friday greatly improved the team.

They began the season by competing in the Santa Barbara Diving Invitational. Here PJ Jarchow qualified for C.I.F. with a very high score, taking third place. They continued the season with Channel League meets every Friday afternoon, working hard, and perfecting dives of great difficulty. With the tremendous coaching effort by Cindy Courtney, they improved with every dive.

Senior PJ Jarchow was this year's outstanding diver who kept the team well within the reach of numerous competition titles. Jay Fitzgibbons was the most improved diver over all, while Sue Swally was the most improved diver. Bridget Wall was thought to have the best attitude on the team, Wayne Brooks had the most guts, Katy Castleburg the best effort, and Brooks Ferguson, the best form. PJ Jarchow had the best dive execution, while Dan Watkins had highly improved execution. Add those all together and you have a team of great guts, effort, and dedication.

1: Junior Brooks Ferguson "hits" a back layout. Unfortunately, it's in practice. 2: Jay Fitzgibbons in the tuck at the Oxnard Meet. 3: Brooks used this twist to pile up winning points and drown the Yellowjackets at Oxnard. 4: Eying his landing point, P.J. Jarchow pulls out of a layout with a twist, prepares to cut the water, and scores a high 7.

It's hard to believe that our senior year has finally come to an end, that we actually made it through all the hard work and chaos that precedes graduation. But somehow we managed to finish that last college application on time, before we succumbed to the follies of senioritis. We even had time to devote to our class council activities. As a class, our ultimate aim was to organize a fun, exciting graduation which would include a moonlight prom at the Coral Casino and a midnight excursion to Disneyland. Our main activities, then, were centered around raising the funds necessary to a successful senior week, and our main fundraiser was the annual senior magazine sales. Kicked off by a special assembly that involved the musical talents of Marc and Jay, and the comic antics of Rob and Paul, the entire project proved extremely profitable and beneficial in contributing to our treasury.

Now that all the toil is over, and we have memories of all the fun rewards, the senior class officers would like to thank everyone for their contributions and for making this year the best it could be. Good luck to everyone in whatever you endeavor, but cease not to forget the friends and memories you leave behind at Santa Barbara High School.

JEWELER BY DAY . . . FOOTBALL PLAYER BY NIGHT

"I take jewelry because it's fun and I like to work with my hands."

Vincent Uribe has designed and crafted his own jewelry for three years. Born and raised in Santa Barbara, he has been commissioned by people in the community to do specialty repair projects and has designed rings and pendants for others. Last year the Alumni Association commissioned him to make a necklace as a reward to their most outstanding member and, last spring, Vincent had a silver and coral necklace displayed in the Santa Barbara Museum of Art.

According to his instructor, Mrs. Janice Lorber, "when Vincent came into class, I knew he was a football player and never dreamed that he would turn out to be one of my most outstanding jewelers! His high quality work and determination have been an inspiration to the whole class."

"None of the other players have ever given me a hard time about my doing jewelry, "said Vincent, who is an aggressive football player as well as a creative jeweler, "they just never mentioned it."

NOT TOO TOUGH . . .

There are many differences between Japanese and American schools that surprised Sachiko. She noticed that in America there is an independent study emphasis where a person can keep up with his level of learning regardless of grade. In Japan a person has to stay within the grade level no matter how advanced he is and the students can not choose their own classes.

As an exchange student from Japan for two years, Sachiko has decided that she would like to stay in Santa Barbara because of its fine reputation. "People are so unique here at S.B.H.S. Everything around me is so beautiful that I feel fortunate to stay here," exclaimed Sachiko.

Sachiko believes that being educated in America, she does not feel as pressured. "Japanese schools are harder because I have quite a lot of pressure for studying and I have to go to school six days a week." After high school, Sachiko must return to Japan, and hopes to go to college there, after passing a very difficult test.

"I think Americans have an easy school life and I like it very much. I am proud to be a part of the Great Dons!"

I CAN FLY . . .

"I like to feel free-to fly-and gymnastics gives me the freedom to express my feelings and emotions, something that is hard to do in regular life."

As a gymnast, senior Melanie McHale was able to develop the self-discipline and dedication that bring about success in life and school. The rigorous training provided a perfect release and confidence-builder to help her face everyday life and its problems.

Melanie discovered her career at the age of 6, while taking classes at the Girls Club. She soon began competing in small meets, although without a lot of success, but finding with each performance the determination to "do better next time." Working as a volunteer instructor at the club and practicing 3 hours daily at UCSB she enjoys the happiness that comes from individual freedom and hard work to accomplish a goal. Best on the vault, she finds that her favorite events are the parallel bars.

Melanie's goal is to continue in gymnastics and score a "32" in All-Around, which will place her in Class 1 and open the door to college scholarships. With or without that 32, she won't retire from this demanding sport as, "I don't think I could live without it. I tried once and just went nuts."

ITS' JUST ME AND THE OTHER GUY

"In wrestling you don't depend on anyone but yourself. If you win or lose, you know you made it happen. Wrestling challenges your physical limitations" says Senior Jay Holland. Jay, a varsity wrestler since he started the sport 4 years ago, has won many medals in tournaments by training everyday. He can be found early in the morning running or lifting weights with the rest of the team as well as 6th period and an hour or two after school. During his spare time, Jay sings and surfs. Even though most of his time is occupied by wrestling, he also makes time for Madrigals, and has been in the group for two years, is currently the vice president and enjoys singing very much.

ANYTHING I CAN IMAGINE

A pottery enthusiast for five years, Angie Incollingo, a senior, feels that she can express herself through pottery "creating anything she can imagine." Although not a native Californian, she's lived here most of her life, and her better creations were made in Santa Barbara. These include a teapot which took great skill because the timing was so important. Pottery is not her only interest. She also enjoys sports and reading, however, pottery is one of the few things in her life "where she can work with her hands." Her teacher, Loren Nibbe, states that she's always present, always working, and always dilligent.

HARD WORK PAYS OFF

Finalists in the U.C.S.B. College of Creative studies, seniors Amy Greenberg and Sayuri Fujiwara, excell in many areas, especially art. Both took advanced placement art as juniors and scored high on their test, they take art classes at City College and U.C.S.B., and have entered numerous nationwide contests. Amy has taken advanced placement classes including history, calculus, physics, and biology, and has been extensively involved in J.S.A. where she held the office of president in her junior year. She spent last summer at Harvard University where she studied English and International Relations and hopes to attend again in the fall of '86.

Sayuri grew up in Japan and moved to the U.S. when she was thirteen. The mixture of the two cultures definitely reflects on her art. She hopes to attend U.C.S.B. next year, but finish her education back in Japan. Their teacher Cindy Martin says that they are both self disciplined, dependable and have the sensitivity required to excell in art.

SUCCESS ON AND OFF THE TRACK

Seventh fastest Don ever on our CC course, MVP for the team in '85, and holder of fifth place on Channel league, senior John Brazelton started running just to get involved in a sport. "Then I got addicted to running and now I run 40 to 60 miles a week."

John has used running in high school for inspiration and success in several areas of his life including the GATE program and AP classes, and believes that it helped in raising his grades to a 4.0 average. "The thing that keeps me going is that I know I can do better than I did before if I just push myself a little harder. Then I can use this dedication for the study of sports medicine at Irvine or Boise State."

"BREATHE"

"Breathe" Senior Stephan Murdoch uses his teddy to point out the Madrigal's motto.

Stephan was inspired to sing by his father when he was 13 and joined the A Capella Choir at the first opportunity. Working his way up to Madrigals he now serves as their President, finding that it is no easy task. Two to three hours of practice each day, plus hours of organizing the Mad's tour of Europe this summer fill his day. Stephan is also serving as head of the fund raising committee which is charged with raising the money for their long awaited tour. He says that "Being in Madrigals is very demanding, yet what I get back is much more than I put in."

Of course the community benefits as well as the Madrigal concerts are always well attended and appreciated by the people of Santa Barbara. Their selection for the European tour is a just reward.

A DREAM COME TRUE

"Basically, I just don't want the normal next step in education. I perform best at a higher level in a regimented atmosphere and also believe in a strong national defense." With these goals in mind, Senior Diana Leach has earned an appointment to the military academy at West Point.

West Point requires athletics, leadership and extracurricular activities as well as excellent grades. Realizing this at an early age Diana joined everything she could and "sweated over every grade." She demands perfection of herself and "wants responsibilities not normally given to a woman or someone of my age; I want to really feel I've accomplished something."

"To put it simply; It's the greatest honor I ever have or ever will receive. It is my dream come true."

The first home game of the season drew a capacity crowd, which filled the student section of Peabody Stadium. Because of this overwhelming student interest, an order was put in to enlarge the rooter section and fans had more room for the remaining games.

Among the seniors in this crowd cheering the Dons to victory over Santa Maria are: Rob Kustal, Rene Serrano, Rosa Nevarez, Christina Angeles, Rosa Corral, Veronica Sanchez, Irene Robles, and Cathie Watson.

JOURNEY TO AMERICA

Nisal Arosha Somarasena came to America in the Spring of 1985 from Sri Lanka, a country with over 90 percent population of Buddhist religion. Seventeen year old Arosha says that school in Sri Lanka is much harder than in the United States. In fact, his eighth grade math class learned the same material he is now getting in the twelfth grade. Over 6,000 students, dressed in white uniforms, attended his school from 7:30 a.m. until 1:30 in the afternoon. Daily assemblies provided a "bulletin" for school news. Arosha took eight subjects in one classroom. Because of the large number of students his teachers traveled from one room to another and the students stayed in their rooms.

As for sports, most Sri Lankans play cricket, soccer and a baseball-like game called LA that is over 1,000 years old. Arosha plays for the Santa Barbara Cricket Club and is a champion table tennis player. He is ambidextrous and enjoys drawing with both hands. He can draw a face using one hand for each side at the same time. His artistic talents also include oil painting, especially of landscapes, and pencil sketches.

MARATHON MAN

Senior Eric French has been noted as an exceptional leader and an intellectual with a unique personality. An aire of calmness and self-assurance surrounds him in every situation. Many of his peers think of Eric as an overachiever, but what is an overachiever? Eric stated that an overachiever is "one who strives the extra mile in the marathon of academic excellence." He does not consider himself an overachiever, but with a GPA of 4.3 and high SAT scores he "likes being considered one."

The four-year JROTC cadet also enjoys Student Government class and serves as Chairperson of the scholarship and college information committee. The Deputy Battalion Commander has earned the Superior Cadet medal as well as the Patriotism medal and likes kicking back in the staff room because "it's fun."

Eric plans to major in Economics at the University of Chicago through the Army four-year ROTC scholarship program. His ultimate goal in life is to "employ my philosophies so that one day the world can be a virtual utopia due to my efforts."

THE ABILITY TO UNDERSTAND BEHAVIOR AND EMOTIONS . . .

Inspired by Jack Nicholson's wide variety of characters, senior actor, Eric Landheer, began Advanced Theatre class this year. With his only experience being working two years with a free lance group of actors in Ukiah, he nabbed the lead role in this years production of "Between Time and Timbucktu".

Eric plans to attend UCLA or UC Berkeley, majoring in theatre and psychology. From there, he wants to work writing screen plays and establishing an acting career. In regard to acting, Eric stated, "It has given me a greater understanding of the various facets of human behavior and emotion."

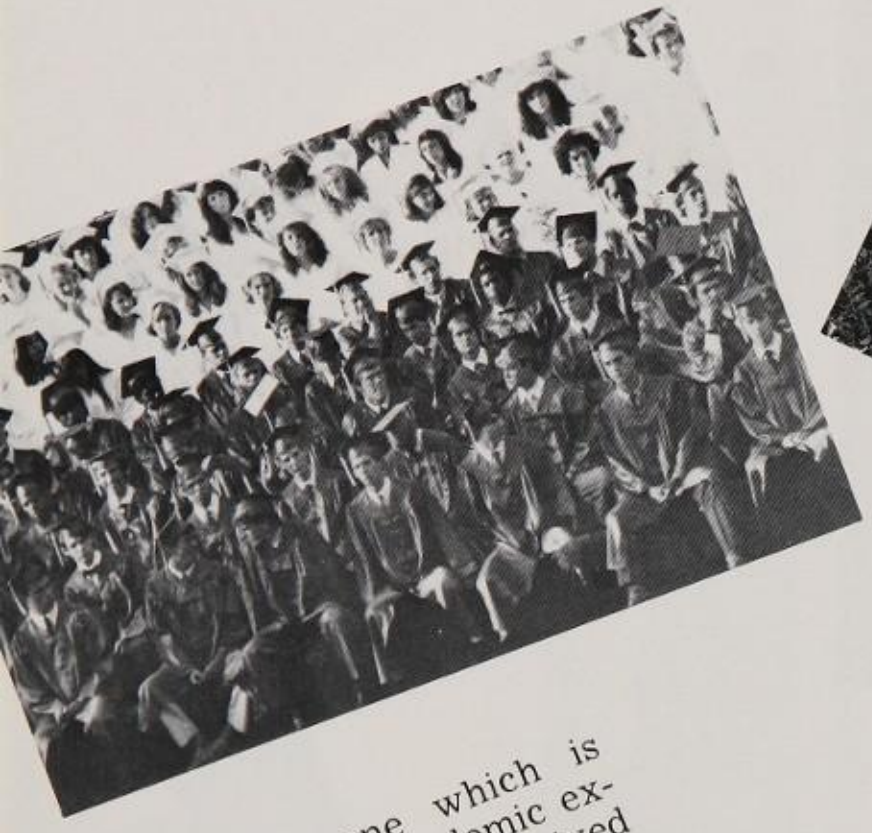
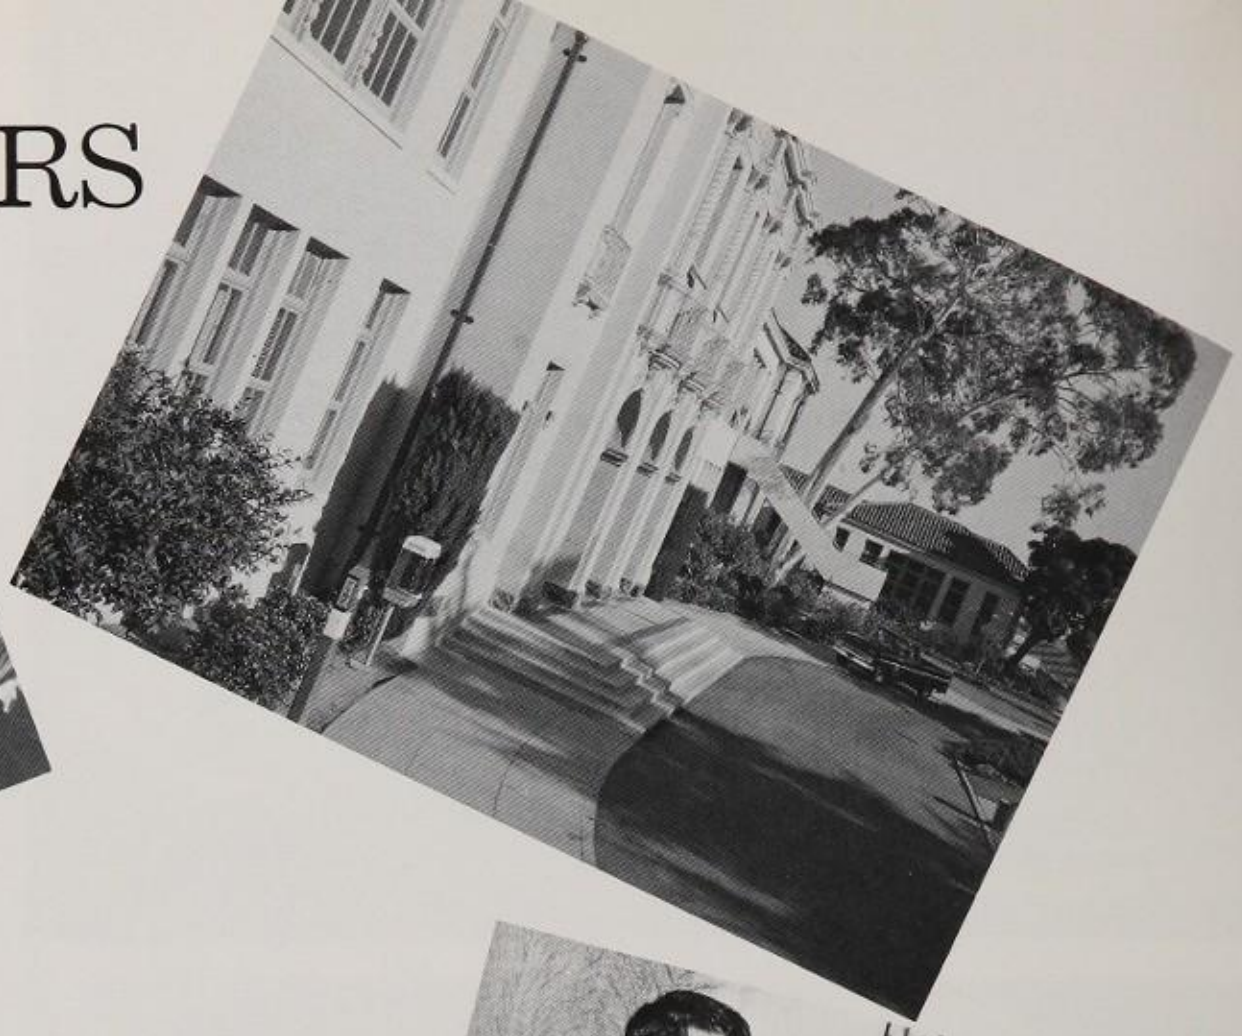
SEALBEARERS





Sealbearer-one which is recognized for academic excellence. An award strived for by many, but achieved by few. Fourty-three to be exact. Students who through their entire high school education, maintained a 3.5 grade point average or higher in academic subjects. Sealbearer is derived from the embossed seals these graduates carry on their diplomas. It is not only the seal or the gold tassel, but also the feeling of pride and accomplishment.

SPREADING A LITTLE HAPPINESS

Senior Rob Kustal has a taste for the theater and enjoys the challenge of portraying a "character." In the Advanced Theater production of Between Time and Timbuktu he played a leading role, but most students know of him from his numerous pep rally skits performed with Paul Davies. These skits were take-offs on "Saturday Night Live", but with original material written by Rob and Paul. They used the same approach for an in-school TV commercial promoting the Don Pride Festival.

Originally from New York, Rob is known by his classmates as "nice, outgoing, friendly, and interesting," but he stated that "I try to be outgoing, but not for my own benefit, I just try to be friendly." His deep-rooted interest in watching and participating in various sports has created a desire to pursue a career in sports media.

As for school, he "likes the opportunity, the diversity, and the teachers at SBHS." Not bothered by the challenge of school work he keeps the thought that "Even when the darkest clouds are in the sky, you must not sigh and you must not cry. Spread a little happiness as you go by."

The Junior Class Council's primary duty is to raise money for its senior year, with most activities taking place between December and June. The Council attempted to involve the entire student body and this also helped bring the Junior Class together.

Some activities the group sponsored included Santa-Grams, Val-O-Grams, the Junior Class Dance, and Candy sales.

President Ines states that "I'm honored that this class was strongly united and participated in many activities for benefit of the school, while raising hundreds of dollars for our senior year."

Dustin Woodall, looks a little confused, as he rushes from the Junior parking lot to beat the tardy bell. Many students found this to be a common occurrance in their daily school routine.

Juniors Pat Clayton and Mark Armstrong practice their official test-taking techniques. Their comment at the end of the class period was "well, another well earned 'A' ". Many teachers found this to be a common occurance in their daily school routine.

Jennifer Flores is surprized at the number of Juniors in school. There were 615 11th graders when classes began in September.

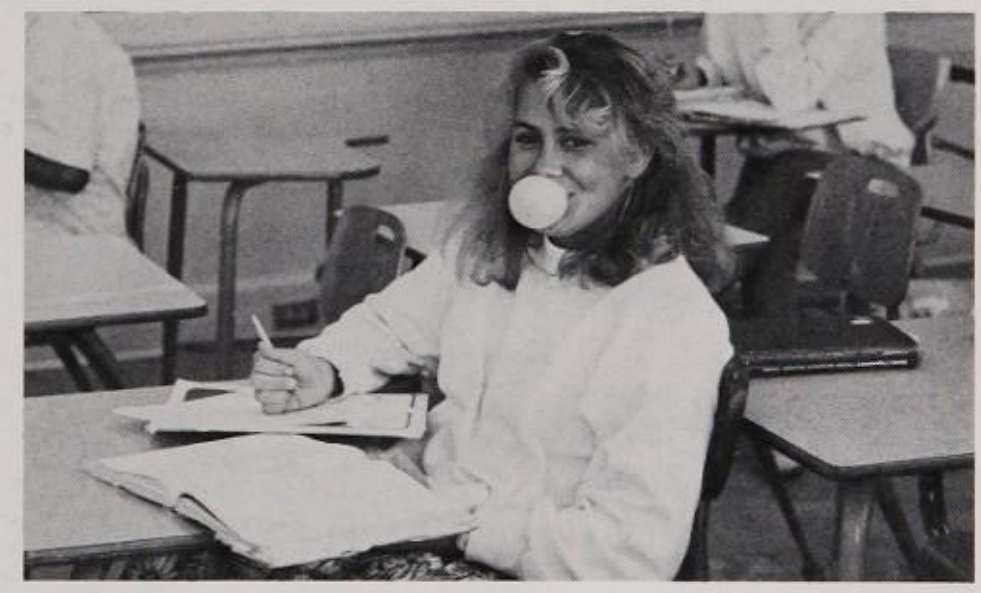
Julie Poucher's 4.3 grade point average does not keep her from enjoying outside activities. Last summer she participated in the filming of the T.V. drama "Crime of Innocence," filmed at S.B.H.S. Although she was paid for her performance, she does not plan to pursue a career in television.

Julie enjoys the physical challenge of skiing and academic classes like English Literature and Trigonometry. She plans to earn an MD degree and become a pediatrician.



Jennifer Keet has performed on stage since her first role at age six, Alice in "Alice in Wonderland". With freshman and sophomore awards for such plays as "The Miracle Worker" and "The Crucible", she played Wanda June in "Between Time and Timbuktu" while assisting the director.

She had a part in the soap "Santa Barbara", sings with the A Capella Choir, and landed a part in the musical "Peace Child" which may tour Moscow and Eastern Europe.

Jennifer develops her talent with dance lessons, listening to music, and reading. Her motto is: "It is only with the heart that one can see rightly; what is essential is often invisible to the eye."

WANNA BUY A WHIRLY GIG?

How many students own and run their own business for 2½ years? Junior Jason Benton, impressed as a child by the art show on the beach, decided to sell his own Whirly Gigs at these sales, and makes quite a profit. Each is different, handpainted to be unique in its own way. It takes about 15 to 20 minutes to make one. As Jason makes them in bunches, it is quicker and easier. His father has a wood shop in which he cuts the basic designs. This business has helped him basically become self supporting and gives him a checking account. You might wonder, what is a Whirly Gig. Jason claims them to be "nifty little creations that are wind powered." Each features a figure of a man chopping or sawing wood or milking a cow. Even though business gives Jason a good profit, he must pay taxes, and must also buy permits from the city to sell at the art shows.

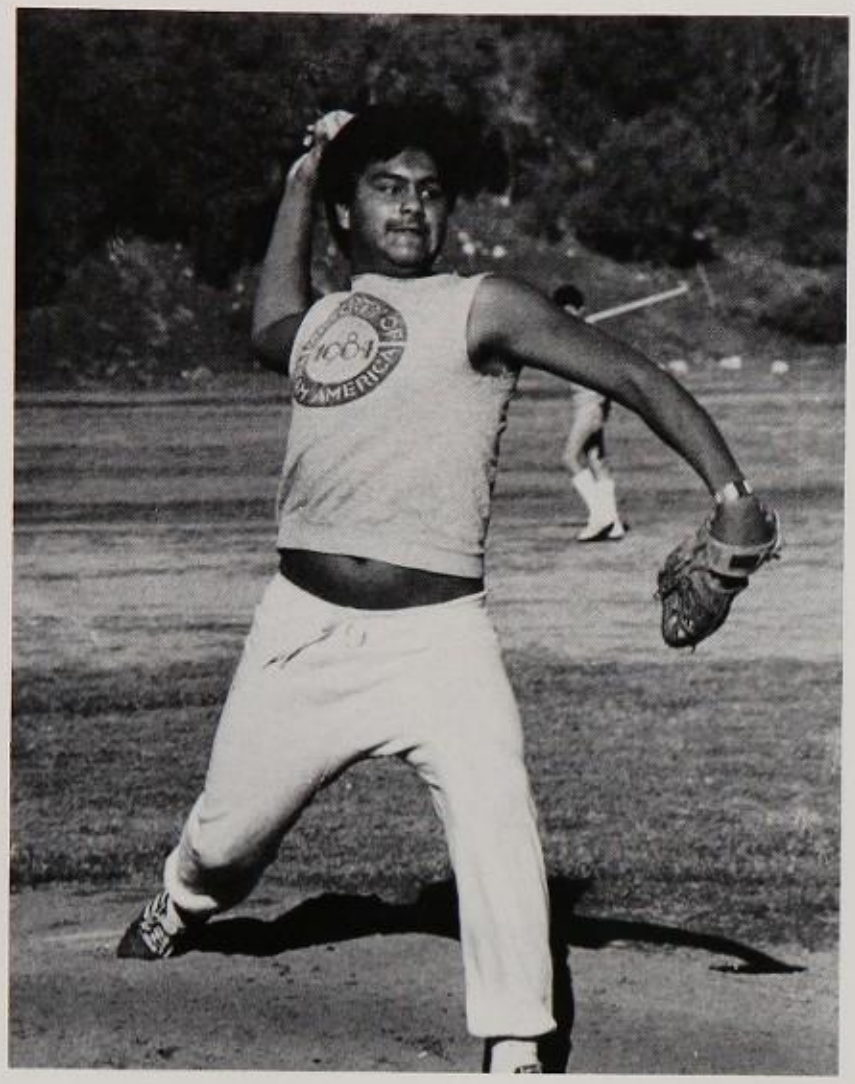
THE DAWN PATROL

Saturday morning 5 a.m., while all sane high school students are nestled snug in bed, 3 guys yawn, stretch, and prepare for a morning hitting the surf. The surf report blares into half-asleep ears as the surfers dazedly eat whatever the can get their hands on, yet at the magic words "surf's up," eyelids snap up like so many venetian blinds and, boards in hand, they're off and running. The sun begins to show over the horizon, they are challenging the power of nature.

These crazy boarders are Cam Tummel, Eric Conn, and Mike Baker. Almost every weekend they can be found at beaches up and down the south coast, enjoying many aspects of the sport - Eric and Cam are into body boarding for fun and competition, while Mike surfs as a hobby. They also delight in such activities as sun tanning and, that old favorite, watching the opposite sex. During winter, they are dedicated enough to sacrifice physical comfort and the aforementioned sideline attractions for their avocation, submerging themselves in frigid water for a chance to catch a few good waves. At times, they can be found at the beach on school days, before the sun is up. Surfing in the dark has drawbacks, such as not being able to see the waves, but that doesn't stop them. They get out there and hope for the best, which is a general attitude toward life.



Melecio - Next Fernando Valenzuela?

A Winning Show

"When you scuba dive you sound like Darth Vader; it's cool" Junior Melecio Carrasco began to take diving courses at the Diver's Den at age fourteen, but could not dive in the channel until age sixteen due to Santa Barbara rules and regulations. Now that he is of age, Melecio dives within eighty feet of the Channel Islands for fun and adventure.

On land he is an amateur disc jockey, spinning records at private parties for friends and relatives. He does not feel experienced enough to go public but plans to make his debut soon.

In his spare time Melecio listens to music to find new songs and to discover the "mixes that will create a winning show." He loves sports, especially baseball, and although quite busy preparing for a possible pitching career, he always leaves time for homework.

THE NEED TO DRAW

"Since I can remember I have had an urge and a need to draw. It has actually become a part of me." Rob Eikenberry a junior has been drawing since he was two years old. He is a native of northern California and moved to Santa Barbara three years ago.

Representing S.B.H.S. in the Santa Barbara Museum of Art Annual Sidewalk Art Competition, he competed against other artists from Santa Barbara. He was also chosen to design the S.B.H.S. Christmas card, an opportunity usually bestowed upon an outstanding senior artist, and was only the second junior to be awarded this honor in twenty-five years. His work has also appeared in the SBHS Fine Arts Magazine.

Rob works for various Santa Barbara companies designing ads for the yellow pages and is currently working on architectural renderings for Coldwell Banker. He was in charge of artistic direction and design in the Crane School production of Mozart's Magic Flute and is art editor of a local magazine called Lightening Dreams.

After graduation. Rob plans to attend Long Beach State University for his B.A. in art and then move to Otis-Parsons Art Institute for a Master of Fine Arts. Rob Eikenberry, an outstanding and promising young artist who is an asset to the junior class.

THE ABILITY TO SAVE A LIFE

"Lifeguarding has been a fulfilling experience, and knowing that I have the ability to save someone's life is very rewarding," says Junior Joe Schneider.

The lifeguard's chair provides a vantage point for lifeguards while swimmers workout.

Joe has been lifeguarding a year, swimming ten years, and competing three years on the swim team, specializing in breast stroke and freestyle.

His lifeguarding courses involved benefecial activities, such as CPR training and first aid.

As Joe concludes, "I'd like to always keep up my knowledge and abilities for life saving, and I hope to have plenty of chances to put my skills to good use in the future."

"This year's sophomore class council has been putting together class contests and next year they hope to put together a noon dance sponsored by their junior class council.

'Our purpose is to raise money for our senior year.' said Vice President, Shanel Orozco.

The council meets every Tuesday at noon to plan the next fundraiser. They've got a beach clean-up, and a bake sale in the works.

The more money we make this year and next, the less money we need to make in senior magazine sales. And hopefully our class will have enough money for an awesome senior year."

A Star Is Born

"Acting helps me to become objective about human relationships; it is a safe freeway through life's ups and downs, it enables me to be other people and to create an illusion."

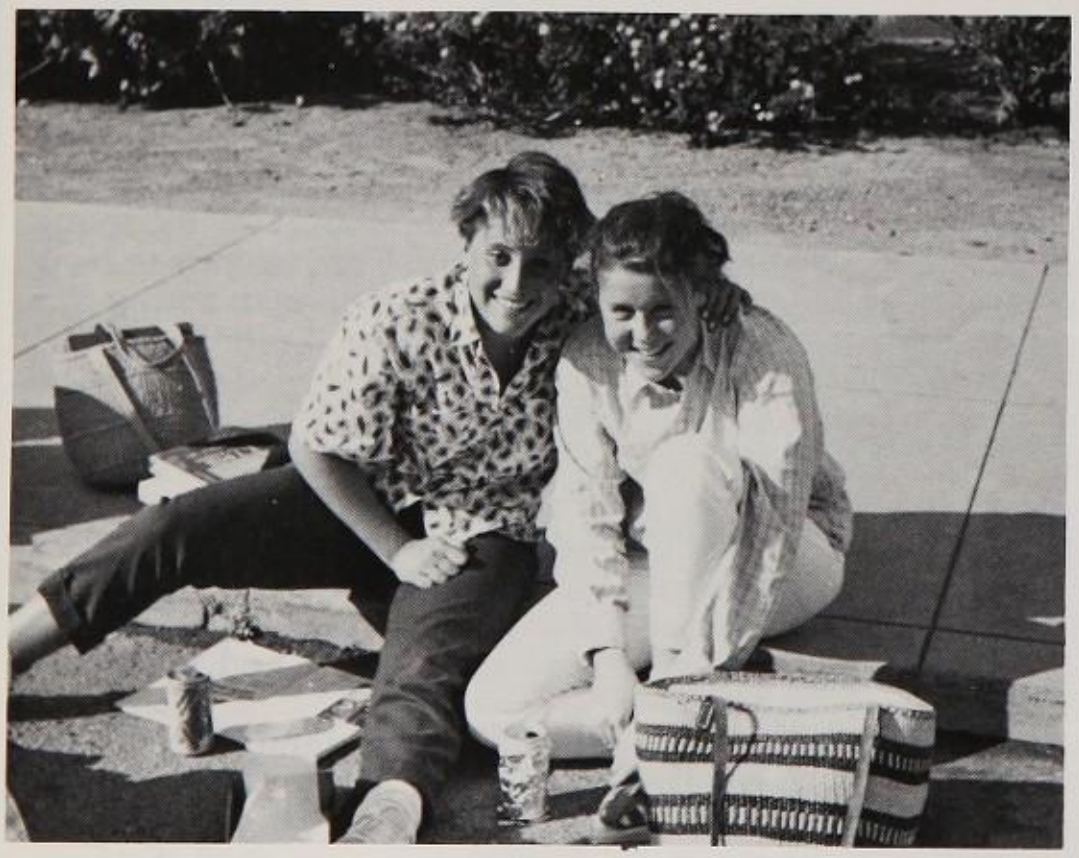
For sophomore Jennifer White, her acting and modeling have filled her life with much excitement. Her modeling career began at the prestigious Eileen Ford agency in New York City six years ago. A year later she began acting at a neighborhood play house also in New York City. She moved to Los Angeles three years ago and modeled for the Nina Blanchard Agency. Also she was represented by Matthew Marshall, a well known acting agent.

In December of 1983 she auditioned for a role in a movie called "The Wild Life" filmed at Universal Studios. Even though she got the part opposite Chris Penn and Ilan-Mitchell Smith, the movie was not a success. Yet, Jennifer earned valuable experience of filmmaking and $5,500 for her efforts.

Moving to Santa Barbara last summer temporarily halted her movie career to some extent, but occasionally she auditions in L.A. and is still represented by acting agent Matthew Marshall.

This year at S.B.H.S. she participated in the Fall production of "Between Time and Timbuktu" and auditioned for various plays in Santa Barbara. After graduation, Jennifer plans to move to L.A. continuing a career in acting and modeling.

Senior Robin Martin, Junior Mimi Durden, and Freshman Phillip Antoine find that part of the fun of the Unity Festival is watching the sophomores try to dance.



Sophs Staci Caplan and Vicki Schooley take time out from one of their favorite "lo-cal" lunches to join the "people watchers" in the quad. Many students have discovered that the curb is a good spot to soak up some sun and watch the people go by, even though it doesn't look very comfortable.

WHERES THE COW NOW?

Many of the incoming Freshman may be wondering what exactly the cow is. A statue of a cow had been standing on the top of the McConell's Ice Cream store for years. It was a tradition for S.B.H.S. students to dare the dead of night on the eve of the San Marcos vs. Santa Barbara game and paint the cow with brightly colored designs. The tradition had been passed on from Don to Don for generations. Many of our parents may have added a coat of paint to the cow's hide. Until last year, she stood high and proud on the roof of the Ice Cream store. But McConells, finally tired of constantly repainting the cow, took it down, and donated it to the school. In 1984, the cow was paraded at the big game, dressed in Olive and Gold and then it mysteriously disapeared. Where did it go? The story goes that the school returned the cow to McConells where it is currently residing in a garage somewhere, just waiting for a new coat of paint. Is this the end of our ever-faithful hoofed friend? Will the cow ever come home? What will be the new color of the cow? Or is this the end of the traditional brightly colored cow??...

"LOVE" VS. REALITY

"It's an incredible feeling when you win, because it's such a horrible feeling when you lose!" For sophomore Tom Scoble, being in higher classes and on the verge of the varsity tennis team, life is pretty challenging right about now. He not only plays three hours a day, but has a very academic curriculum including Italian 4, Chemistry and Algebra/Trig. all in the GATE program. "Sometimes it's hard because I get teased for being younger, especially from Mrs. Fuller; but I like the challenge of harder classes."

Four years ago, fooling around on a Colorado tennis court for the fun of it, Tom began practicing and training for Colorado tournaments. This barely prepared him for when he came to California and entered into much higher competition. Overall, he is ranked in the top 40 in California, while in Colorado he was ranked 5th in the state, "Coming to California was quite different, the competition is much more difficult, but it's challenging and that's what I love!"

I LOVE DANCING . . .

A dancer in The King and I, Iu-Hui Chua, a freshman, loves to perform and dance. The youngest of the dancers in the show, she spent many late hours practicing and performing, but, "the people were so great that the late rehearsals weren't so tiring." When she was younger her mother made her take dance lessons to help her back. After a few months she fell in love with dancing and now hopes to continue "until her body or her money wears out." She has lived all over the world including Michigan, Minnesota, Singapore, and Santa Barbara. Her cosmopolitan background helped make her a well rounded person as she enjoys reading, singing, skiing, and riding as well as dancing. Iu-Hui feels that being in The King and I gave her a new perspective on dancing and culture. "I enjoyed learning Siamese dancing because, unlike Ballet, the dance involves intricate hand movements, yet putting my make-up on and taking it off forty-two times really did a job on my face."

It's Not Easy . . .

Freshman Jennifer Latham started taking gymnastics classes at the age of six with the Santa Barbara Girls Club and trained for nine years before moving to the "Yamis" advanced gymnastics training them. "My idol, Nadia Comanichi gave me the inspiration and motivation to be a gymnast," and in her first meet she scored first place "all-around."

Her most recent meet was the competition put on by the United States Gymnastics Federation held in Northridge at Flyers Gym. There were two divisions, compulsory-routines made up by the USGF, and optionals-routines that the competitor and coach choreograph together. Jennifer received a 32.00 out of 40.00 in the compulsory, which provided motivation for further work.

"Besides feeling like I'm achieving something that isn't easy and takes talent, I enjoy gymnastics because I stay so fit."

THE DESIRE TO PLAY

It started in the fourth grade when freshman, Michelle Beauchesne began to play the cello. "I just had a desire to play," and play she did. When her teacher saw her play she said, "I think we've got something here!"

Through the years, Michelle has been granted over $85,000 in scholarships, from Santa Barbara Pillsbury Foundation and many local musical chapters throughout the county.

Michelle has been in the Youth Symphony for four years, and intends to continue as long as she can. For the last three years, she has been a finalist in the annual "Young Soloists Competition."

Recognition gained playing the cello, has inspired her to attend the University of Freinsburg in Germany. "Everyone has something they like to do, some people like to go to the beach, I like to play the cello, it makes me feel good, brings me up when I'm down, and it's a great way to exert my positive energy."

DIVING INTO STARDOM

"I really like scuba diving, I like to explore and find new things that no one has ever seen before." For freshman Garreth Jones, his many interests include scuba diving and freehand drawing.

He is recognized as quite a good artist and, with one of his first drawings featured in the main hall, Garreth is on his way to artists' stardom. "I enjoy not being required to draw a certain thing, I like to be free."

PARTS IS PARTS!

"For some reason I have always been ahead."

Peter Lorenzen, a freshman, is currently taking courses in calculus at U.C.S.B. "Ever since kindergarten I have always been a couple of grades higher in math. When I reached junior high, algebra and trigonometry came even easier." In eighth grade he was taking geometry, advanced trig, and pre-calculus.

"When I get out of college, I want to be a nuclear engineer or scientist, to be able to do something with mathematics, or else it would have been just a big waste of time and effort."

As a break from math, Peter wrestles on the J.V. team.

EUGENE SNYDER

Not many people know that for 8 years, Gene Snyder coached the Varsity basketball team here at SBHS. He also taught math, social studies, and Physical Education before joining the administration. He has been co-principal at SBHS for 21 years.

Mr. Snyder feels that SBHS is a "very special school because of all the people (young and old) who work, learn, and live on campus." He enjoys being co-principal with Mr. Jackson, and feels that "having Mr. Jackson as a partner has been most satisfying." But he admits that there are disadvantages to the job, such as the long hours and the fact that he has to be a good listener and patient.

Mr. Snyder's hobbies include reading autobiographies, wine making, and going to swap meets around the United States. "I enjoy my leadership role because I've been successful in motivating, organizing, and bringing about meaningful changes."

WILLIAM JACKSON

As co-principal of SBHS, William H. Jackson likes the school because of "the great student body, the wonderful staff, and the valuable traditions." He had previously taught math at UCSB and City College and has now been here for 20 years. What he "loves about the high-school-age student is watching boys and girls become mature men and women." He is most fulfilled when he can use his time and talents helping the students to constructively work their way into American society.

Mr. Jackson's hobbies include gardening, hiking, cooking, and traveling. He feels that there are many more important things for him to accomplish before he considers retiring.

ROBERT BLAKENEY

"Most of us are capable of achieving much more than we do."

After previously teaching at two other high schools, Bob Blakeney feels that "there is something special and unique at S.B.H.S." In addition to teaching American History, he has coached basketball and football.

"I've had the opportunity to really interact on a one to one basis with many of the students. This interaction has made me more aware of the high quality students at S.B.H.S."

In his free time, besides sports, Mr. Blakeney enjoys bicycling and traveling in the U.S. He has visited each of the 50 states!!

ALBERTA BROWN

"The good part about being a dean is that I'm able to play a small role in helping young people make better decisions." Miss Alberta Brown has been teaching for 29 years. Before coming to S.B.H.S., she taught English and PE and worked at S.B.H.S. and Goleta Valley Junior High. "I enjoy teaching because I like the change of new experiences."

In her spare time she enjoys backpacking in the High Sierras, playing tennis as much as possible, and going to the music center in L.A." I love S.B.H.S. because of the friendly people and the marvelous sense of tradition."

JOE DE LA TORRE

"When I help someone to get back on the right track, that's the good part of being the 10th grade dean," says Joe De La Torre. He has been involved in teaching, counselling and administrating during his 29 year career. He began teaching social studies and science at Carpinteria Junior High School. From there he went to La Colina Junior High School where he taught PE, was a counselor, and eventually was the assistant principal.

In 1981, Mr. De La Torre returned to S.B.H.S., his Alma Mater, in the position of dean. "I felt I needed a change, I wanted to work with older and more mature students; but sometimes it gets tiring working with students who have had bad experiences at school.

In his spare time, he enjoys traveling and has gone with his wife to such places as Spain, Portugal, Mexico, North Africa, and Hawaii. "I've learned that most students are co-operative, pleasant, well-mannered and easy to work with."

ROBERT HAGER

Having 36 years of counseling under his belt, Robert Hager, head counselor, cannot say that he does not enjoy what he's doing. In fact his job is one in which he receives "great emotional satisfaction and a modest paycheck." These two benefits are reasons that many teachers and faculty stay at S.B.H.S.

Mr. Hager likes S.B.H.S. because "we have the finest staff anyone could choose as colleagues and a student body second to none."

Although he enjoys his job very much because he "likes being with young people", Mr. Hager also keeps busy outside of the office. His hobbies and interests are photography, listening to early appalachian music, traveling, boating, water skiing, and bicycling.

Mr. Hager's thoughts on retiring this year have left many thinking of how proud they are to have him as a member of the faculty at Santa Barbara High School.

"TYING THE THREADS OF KNOWLEDGE TOGETHER"

Mike Couch

Teacher of the year

While Mike Couch was a student, if he found himself bored, he would think about how he would teach the lesson if he were the teacher. This was one of the main factors in his decision to devote his life to teaching.

After 19 years of teaching social studies at SBHS, Mr. Couch still finds excitement in "tying the threads of knowledge together." His teaching has had such an impact on his students, that through their efforts, he earned the Teacher of the Year award for Santa Barbara County.

SBHS senior Grant Burrows initiated Mr. Couch's nomination. Grant described him as a "charismatic man who devotes seemingly endless amounts of time to his students." Students were joined by teachers, administrators and parents in their praise of Mr. Couch.

Mr. Couch well earned the title. In addition to his full-time duties teaching economics, government, and world affairs, Mr. Couch attended pep rallies, dances, football and basketball games, ran the student government class and trained students for mock trial competition. He also organized the school academic decathlon team.

SBHS offered Mr. Couch his first and only permanent teaching job. As a teacher, his goal was to "teach students how to think and how to communicate that thinking." He added "the subject matter is secondary because the kids are not going to remember everything they learn at school. But they can learn to think."

His method, he said, "is to make learning as exciting as possible. You have to show them that what they are supposed to learn is interrelated with their lives, that it is meaningful. That's the greatest gift that I learned when I was student teaching."

As far as being named Teacher of the Year, Mr. Couch said, "it makes you feel wonderful that somebody appreciates you and it's especially nice that it comes from the students."

SBHS . . . A STIMULATING ATMOSPHERE

"I love the diversity at SBHS-the variety of interests, political ideas, social and ethnic groups create a stimulating atmosphere." So says Leslie Brtek, American History and Computer Programming teacher. A teacher for 15 years, she enjoys making a difference in students' lives. She finds teaching a positive experience, especially when students return to thank her.

Her other interests include running, animals (she has a dog and cats), and bicycling. She runs almost every day and can often be seen riding her bike to and from school. The uphill ride home helps her to "keep off the flab of age." Ms. Brtek likes helping people learn new things and loves working with the different types of people at SBHS. She also likes "the age and tradition associated with THE high school of Santa Barbara."

"Tardy again? You're lucky that there isn't any more detention, BUT you can bet your grade might be affected," Mr. Bruno tells sophomore, Alfonso Gallindo.

"SPECIAL THANKS TO: ALEX ABATIE, AMY FERLAUTO, ROSA CORRAL, CINDI MILLER

After seven months of deadlines, Saturday workdays, and late-night copy writing, the end has finally arrived. Cropping, layout designing and picture printing will all be things of the past. The endless hours the staff spent working overtime will be rewarded. The struggles and hardships will soon be forgotten, and the finished product will make everything worthwhile. Bound between two hard covers, a year full of memories has been chronicled.

The road to completion was not always smooth, but there were certain people who made it easier. Special thank-yous to Sabrina Davies, for never failing to get the picture taken; to Elisa Phipps, for tackling the sports section; to Jenny Kirkwood, always willing to help; and to our Josten's Representative Steve Sanders for his constant support. As for Mr. Wheeler, who refused to be thanked, I'll simply say that in him, I found not only an advisor or a teacher, but most importantly a friend.

Of the four years I spent on the staff, this one was by far the most difficult. Understanding teachers who looked the other way when I had to miss a class or accepted late papers, close friends who kept me sane and often lended an extra hand (Thanks Roach!), and my parents who always encouraged me, are all responsible for this book's success.

Christina Angelis

1986 Olive & Gold Co-Editor

What better honor to be appointed at SBHS than the Yearbook Co-editor for the 1986-86 Olive and Gold annual.

Besides being an honor, it was a job of great responsibility. For all the after school, weekend and night hours spent on designing the yearbook, it was well worth my time.

Why did I stay in Yearbook for four years? Because I enjoyed feeling the great satisfaction, accomplishment and pride in the achievements of myself and others. That is why many of the yearbook staff put up with the bad times (and the gritting of our teeth) because we knew what the end result would be.

The time spent on staff was not all fun; the disappointment from those who took advantage of the ones that were dedicated was a painful experience. I learned, that there were a few very special people that worked as a team and made the bad experiences bearable. I found important, the people that were loyal, responsible and willing to "jump in" when the work was heavy.

This book is for the student body of SBHS. I would like to dedicate it to those who made it possible.

Connie, candyman, RC, Ray!
Whatever, we had an awesome track season this year. Next year we'll have the bodacious senior year ripping up the track.
Untill then → later!
ERIK ERNEST

Denise, if you thought this years team was good, wait 'til next year.
Stay clean and be safe!
